John Lanier and His Descendants

As stated, John Lanier was living in that part of Charles City Co, afterwards known as Prince George, as early as 1676. In 1683, a land warrant was issued to him and Peter Wycke for 482 acres, located in the Parish of Westover, on the south side of James River. ... He was born ca 1655 and d between 5 Jan 1717-1718, when his will was dated, and 14 Apr 1719 when a little more than a year later his will was probated. ...

p 137 Sarah BREWER, daughter of John Lanier

Sarah Lanier was b ca 1684, and married George BREWER, whose will was proved in Brunswick Co, 2 Aug 1744, and names his children, Oliver, Henry, Nathaniel, Sarah, Lanier, George, John and Howell.

The first wife of George BREWER was Sarah Lanier. Mrs. Royal Eason Ingersoll, 1202 Indiana Avenue, LaPorte, IN, has done much research on the Lanier family and has touched upon the Sarah (Lanier) BREWER branch.
Sarah was the d/o John Lanier and his wife Sarah (Edmunds) Lanier was the d/o William Edmunds and his wife Elizabeth Edmunds. It is from Howell Edmunds, s/o this William, that the name of Howell seems to have gotten into the BREWER family.
Three of the sons of George BREWER, that is Nicholas, Howell and Lanier, moved south and settled in North Carolina. All available information points toward Ambrose Brewer, father of Howell Cobb BREWER, as being a s/o either Howell or Lanier.

Notes for SARAH LANIER:
Lanier Family Line[2]: Ambrose BREWER's grandmother Sarah Lanier is where this family joins the BREWERs. The Laniers were Huguenots (French Protestants) who fled France to avoid persecution. Their chance came when the Earl of Hereford, visiting Paris, met Nicholas Lanier, who had been a flute player in the Court of King Henry II of France. The Earl proceeded to hire him as flute player for Queen Elizabeth I of England. Although it was against the law for Protestants to leave France, sometime in 1561 Nicholas slipped away and arrived in London
p 9: where he became the founder of this renowned musical family and ancestor of all American Laniers. This includes the poet Sindney Lanier and James Franklin Doughty Lanier. James Lanier was the banker from Madison, IN, who singlehandedly financed the state government of IN under Republican Governor Oliver P Morton during the Civil War. This prevented the Democratic majority in the IN General Assembly, which favored secession, taking IN out of the Union. When Governor Morton called out the IN Home Guard (National Guard, today) in support of the Union, the Genral Assembly responded by refusing to appropriate any money for him to operate on. James Lanier came to the rescue and carried the burden of state finance two years until the next election when Union sympathizers were elected to the General Assembly. These two Laniers are not in the direct line but would be distantly related cousins.
Back to the direct Lanier line, in 1604 King James I (the same one who ordered the Bible translated into English) named Nicholas Lanier "Musician of the Flutes," an office held until his death in 1612. His son Clement Lanier, talented on the recorder, a type of flute, was a Gentleman of the King's Chamber. His son, John Lanier, is the first of this Lanier line to come to America. They arrived before 1656. John Lanier supported Bacon's Rebellion and is said to have camped at Jordon's Point with the leader of the rebellion, Nathaniel Bacon. This may actually have been his son John Jr who at age 21 would be more likely be "roughing it" with the young 30-year-old leader of this first rebellion against British rule which took place in 1676, exactly one hundred years before the successful American Revolution. At the critical point of this revolt, Nathaniel Bacon died of pneumonia and the movement died with him. Some historians, pondering the effect of George Washington's death at a critical point in the American Revolution, say that the United States might have been born one hundred years earlier had Bacon lived. However, that would have resulted in a p 10: capital city named Bacon, DC., so maybe things do work out for the best, after all.

She receieved a cow from her father, in his will, when he died. No small gift in those days.

Chapter 1—Over the River from Jamestown (1607-1754)

On February 1, 1754 an act for the creation of Sussex County became effective. The petition handed the General Assembly the year before by those inhabitants of Surry County living south of the Blackwater River had brought to fruition what had long been in their minds. . . . The severance accomplished was natural and logical. The homes located in the fertile southern part of Surry County had not been established without all the perils and hardships that accompany the settling of any country.

During the seventeenth century restrictions forbade settlement of frontier lands south of the Blackwater River. An order of Council, however, dated August 23, 1702, provided that "land on ye South side Blackwater Swamp should be Laid open after the 20th of November then next coming, and that all her Majesties Subjects should have full liberty to take up & Patent the sd Lands in the accustomed manner." Even before the legal bars had been lifted people had trickled in and begun to shape their lives in one common mold of daily existence. . . . (13)

When the first colonists stepped in 1607 upon the green peninsula they called Jamestown, the land forming the south bank of th wide James River was the home of numerous Indian tribes. Betwwn two creeks that eventually received the names of Upper and Lower Chi[okes. Dwelt the Quioughcohanock, whose town Chawapo, Quioughcohanock, and Nantapoyac, and surrounding fertile corn fields looked down on the ebb and flow of the river tide. Over this tribe ruled Pepiscumah (Pipisco), a friendly chief who invited the adventurers of 1607 to visit his town even before they settled at Jamestown.

In the shadowy pine forests surrounding this strip of land lived other tribes of Algonquin stock, the Powchay-ick, Weyanoke, Coppohank, and "the nations of Seacocks." South of these were the Nottoway, an isolated Iroquoian group. At least two Nottoway towns lay in the area of future Sussex—one on Corroneesus Swamp and the other on Assamusick Swamp. In recent years bowls, pipes, and other relics have been found at these two sites. . . . In 1617 . . . the colonists began to select plantations along these lonely shores. Martin Brandon on Upper Chippokes Creek, settled that year by reason of a special patent, became the first wedge in an attempt to establish private plantations. Not until 1618 was another laid out on the south side of the James. (14)

In the spring of that eventful year Christopher Lawne's ship arrived with one hundred immigrants and settled at Warrasquoyake in present Isle of Wight County; and Sir George Yardley arrived as governor with authority to put in effect "the Great Charter of privileges, orders, and Laws," which brought about representative government. . . . each "hundred and particular plantation" in these divisions was granted the right to elect burgesses for the General Assembly. That met July 30, 1619 at Jamestown. The "hundred," a term borrowed from the name used to designate subdivisions of the English shire, was an extensive area that had been granted to a society. A "plantation" was a large single farm or a group of farms granted to one of more individuals. The House of Burgesses, which began its career in 1619, was the first democratically elected legislative body in the New World (14-15). . . .

In the several years that followed, many grants were sealed to the colonists. The London Company meanwhile undertook to transport great multitudes of people and cattle to Virginia. Many of these were settled on the southside of the James, where stability and peace prevailed until March 22, 1622, the day the Indians, in one concerted effort, did their utmost to wipe out the English colonists on both sides of the river. Jamestown, fortunately, escaped. Chanco, a young Indian, belonging to a tribe on the south bank of the James, unfolded the plot to Richard Pace . . .

In 1634 The General Assembly discarded cumbersome corporations as political divisions of the colony and created in their place eight counties, one of which was James City, including the present county and extending across the James southward. In this territory lay the future county of Sussex. . . . (16)

[In 1633] an act required the inhabitants of the south side of the river to bring their tobacco, long the "money crop,' to the public warehouse at Jamestown. Marriages were a natural result, and the people on both sides of the river were blended at an early date. . . .

In 1652 Surry County was created, a vast territory beginning at the muddy south side of the James and slanting southwest through limitless pine forests cut by the sinuous length of three rivers—the Blackwater, Nottoway and Meherrin. . . . To the south lay unexplored forests, threaded with Indian trails, filled with bear and deer, and dotted here and there with Indian villages. Through these woods for three days in 1609 Quioughcohanock braves had led Nathaniel Powell and Anas Todkil in a vain search for Sir Walter Raleigh's lost colony. (18-19)

The area that is now Sussex, occupied as it was by Indians, contained no white settlers to suffer from the Indian Massacre of 1644, which was led by the aged Opechancanough—brother of Powhatan and chief whose diabolical cunning had been responsible for the slaughter of 1622. Directly as a result of the second massacre, however, the county that was later known as Dinwiddie saw the establishment of Fort Henry, a stronghold established against Indian attacks. . . .

By the time Sir William Berkeley started on his unhappy second administration in 1660, the Indians on the Surry Side had become ineffectual. . . . The pine-covered land that was to become Sussex County was still a wilderness from which death in Indian guise had ceased to issue, for the ignominious decline of the aborigines had already set in. A forerunner of subsequent vassalage occurred in 1654, when a boy of the "nation of Seacocks" was indentured for "fower years" (19).

The Surry Side Indians, by 1662, had become mere pilferers, required by law, whenever they came "within English bounds," to wear badges of bright cloth bearing the name of their town. The Weyanoke, the great tribe that had migrated from both sides of the James after the treaty of 1646 and settled south of the Blackwater River, had lost their strength, like the others; and their property had been absorbed by the English. By 1670 the Weyanoke had only 15 "hunters," the Maharineck (Meherrin) 50, and the two Nottoway towns but 90, all of which did not prevent the south side of the James from being caught in the tangle of defenses planned against the menace of rising Indians in 1676, when Surry contributed 40 men, under Captain Roger Potter, who were "garrisoned at one ffort or defenceable place neare Richard Atkins upon the black water."

[Under] Sir William Berkeley . . . [with] the restoration of Charles II . . . [the] right to elect representatives to the House of Burgesses, which the colonists had won and held by the hardest of struggles, was utterly lost during the 1660s. . . . [the] House . . . passed heavy and unfair assessments in the making of which the rank and file of Virginians had no part. In 1670 . . . an act was passed limiting the voters to landowners only, though the per capita tax was levied against all persons—truly taxation without representation. As a result the poor became poorer and the rich richer. In addition, tobacco was bringing a low price.

Bacon's Rebellion

Leadership for the revolt was found in the person of Nathaniel Bacon, who settled at Curles Neck in Henrico County in 1674. The young man came of an old and distinguished English family. He had been educated at Cambridge, and he had traveled extensively before migrating to Virginia. Almost immediately upon his arrival in the colony he was made a member of the Council . Though an aristocrat, he at once-espoused the cause of the people (20).

The Indians, whose atrocities alarmed the colonists and against whom there was demand that the governor take action, were the militant Susquehannock and Doeg of Maryalnd and northern Virginia. A concerted campaign by the colonists against the Idians who lied along Piscataway Creek and in Maryland and who ahd been pillaging in Northern Virginia resulted in the defeat of the Susquehannock. Where upon Colonel John Washington—the great grandfather of George Washington—and Colonel Isaac Allerton of Westmoreland County joined with Colonel John Truman of Maryland, determined to put an end to marauding. When—during a truce—several Indians were unjustifiably murdered by the whites, the Susquehannock attacked Virginia's entire western frontier, enlisting other tribes as allies (20-21).

The governor . . . disbanded the militia. . . . Then it was that Nathaniel bacon took matters in his own hands and demanded that the governor grant him a commission to proceed against the marauders. The governor refused and declare Bacon a rebel. Many people on the Surry side of Charles city County then rallied to the support of the young leader. A band of Bacon's followers fortified themselves in "Allen's Brick House," now known as Bacon's Castle.

For months disaster had been predicted for the omens had been bad. During many nights a blood red comet had flashed through the sky, "streaming like a horse's tail westward . . . and settling towards the northwest." Thousands of pigeons in flight had darkened the sky and, roosting at night, had broken the limbs of great trees. Swarms of flies "as big as the top of a man's little finger," had risen from the holes in the earth and had eaten the leaves of the trees. Apparently the time had come for action, for certainly no calamity could be worse than the plight of Virginians in that year of 1676 (22).

When the governor saw the people meant business, he ordered an election—the first that had been held since 1661. Bacon was elected to the House of Burgesses, pardoned by the governor, and reinstated as a member of the Council. That the rebellion was not brought about solely by the uprising of the Indians is proved by the record of Bacon's activities in the legislative halls of Jamestown, for immediately he sought to right the wrongs the people were suffering. Through his efforts universal suffrage was restored, and laws were enacted requiring frequent election of the vestries of parishes and auditing of public counts, and prohibiting trade with the Indians, long terms if office, excessive fees, and the sale of liquors (21-22).

The rebellion was not to end so quickly, however. Bacon learned that the governor was plotting against him, left Jamestown—not having received the commission to proceed against the Indians—and concentrated his attack upon the government rather than upon the savages. During the struggle that followed, the governor signed the commission that bacon had been seeking and shortly thereafter fled to the Eastern Shore. The young leader, then in control, put the liberal laws into practice.

Emboldened by his success, he sent a British guardship to the Eastern Shore to capture Berkeley. The captain, however, betrayed the rebels and turned over the ship and crew to the governor. When Berkeley returned to Jamestown, bacon stormed the capital, burned it, and issued to the people a proclamation to the effect that, if England should champion the governor's cause, the people must defend their liberties or abandon Virginia. Then he set upon a tour of the colony. In Glouchester County he died of a fever. Though the rebels, having lost their leader, were apparently defeated, a spark was ignited that ahs never been extinguished in Virginia.

The fury of the old governor knew no bounds. Charles II, hearing the news, is said to have exclaimed, "That old fool has hanged more men in that naked country than I have done here for the murder of my father." But Sir William Berkeley was recalled to England, where he died within a year. As a result of the rebellion, better days dawned for the colony (22). . . .

Opening Up the Blackwater Lands

King William and Queen Mary . . . granted, in 1693,their royal charter for the College of William and Mary . . . for sources of income for the institution was one directing that 10,000 acres in Pamunky Neck and 10,000 acres south of the Blackwater be held for the college in free and common soccage—only upon the quit rent of two copies of Latin verses delivered annually at the governor's house on every 5th day of November. The tract south of the Blackwater lay altogether in territory that subsequently became Sussex County. . . .

Queen Anne, in response to the petitions of the people, finally revoked that part of the college charter assigning the two tracts for support of the college, and Governor Edwart Nott on June 22, 1706 announced to the General Assembly that as soon as he could advise with "ye Councill in settling proper Rules for preventing all disputes that may happen about priority of Entries," he would "forthwith give directions for Laying open the Land in Pomunky Neck and whenever the bounds of ye Counties on ye South side black water swamp are settled according to the Act agreed on, this session, the Like permission" would be given "for making Entries there."

Soon thereafter the straight north-south lines that form the boundaries of the south-side counties were run, the General Assembly having enacted: That "whereas many inconveniencys attend the inhabitants of . . . Prince George, Surry, Isle of Wight and Nansemond, by reason of the uncertainty of the bounds . . . on the south side of Black Water swamp," the surveyors of the several counties shall "lay out the Black Water Swamp . . . and . . . reduce the same into one straight line, from which said line so reduced, a perpendicular shall be raised, and a line run parallel to that perpendicular from the head of the bounds of each of the said counties . . . shall hereafter be the dividing line of each county backwards as farr as this government extends."

With the defining of boundaries, there was an immediate influx of patentees to the territory that was to be Sussex County, for "Sir Edmund Andros opened the tracts to all mankind so that we could have no tenants, since every man was free to take Land in fee in the same place" (17-28). . . .

As early as 1701 patents for Blackwater lands had been granted to Francis Epes, William Epes, Littlebury Epes, Richard Smith, William Parham, Edmund Irby, Robert Carlisle, Thomas reeves, and George Pierce. . . . On March 17, 1801 John mason, William Harrison, and Hugh Belsches, writing to the college, mentioned the following persons as owners of the lands once intended to yield dividends for the encouragement of genius: William Harrison, Lucy Atkins, John Mason, William underhill's estate, Thomas Moss, lewis Parham, Samuel Smith, Richard Christian, and Peter Jennings. . . .

In 1733 Surry County and its two parishes had ceased to sprawl southwest to North Carolina, when a line was run from the Nottoway at the mouth of Chetacrie Creek straight south to the Meherrin, thence east along the Meherrin. Then that part of Surry southwest of this line was Brunswick County and the ends of Surry's two long parishes were annexed to St. Andrew's Parish (31-32).

Chapter 2—Years of Youth (1754-1776)

Sussex was organized as a county when resentment against Robert Dinwiddie was at its height. The governor had reached Virginia on November 20, 1751. . . . he had inaugurated a policy so unpopular as to cause several counties to send petitions to the General Assembly of 1753. Two men later associated with Sussex were among those appointed to inform the governor of the protest . . . Augustine Claiborne, later clerk of the Sussex Court, and Benjamin Harrison. When Gray Briggs and John Edmunds went over to Williamsburg early in 1754 to be the first burgesses from Sussex County, the assembly was waiting word from the King that would either condemn or uphold the governor. . . . Dinwiddie had sought to pick up a bit of change by charging one pistole (a gold coin equivalent to about $3.60) for affixing his name to land patents; and the colonists were no end upset (34). . . .

As usual the battle was eventually won by the colonists. . . .

Sussex Men in French & Indian Wars

Under Governor Dinwiddie, Virginia was divided in 1752 into four military districts, each with its own officer. Sussex county, falling into the Southern District, was commanded by George Washington. . . . France . . . was planning a line of forts to extend from the Great lakes to the Spanish Floridas. . . .

Having obtained from the Indians permission to erect a fort at the confluence of the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers, Dinwiddie in 1753 had appointed the 21 year old George Washington to acquaint the French with his plans. The young man delivered the warning message that paved the way for the French and Indian war, in which he was later to achieve his first fame and the military preparation that enabled him later to command the American forces during the Revolution. By the death first of Colonel Joshua Fry and then of the British General Edward Braddock, Washington succeeded to the command of two important expeditions (35)

Sussex County . . . furnished its share of volunteers to accompany Washington. Captain Henry Harrison was a member of the military expedition led by General Edward Braddock against the French in Western Pennsylvania and was present at Fort Duquesne in 1755 when the British general was killed and George Washington assumed command. Captain Harrison, the son of Benjamin Harrison (. . . 1745) of Berkeley, lived at Hunting Quarter in Sussex. He was a brother of Benjamin Harrison (1726-1791), signer of the Declaration of Independence, and uncle of President William Henry Harrison (1773-1841). Certain it is that captain James Wyche was paid for conducting Sussex soldiers to Fredericksburg. The captain, moreover, was one of the first gentlemen of Sussex to subscribe to the oath of justice for the new county. . . . (35-36)

Developing Sussex

Sussex County, immediately after its creation, entered upon an expansion that was to continue for many years without interruption. The new county developed its resources: cleared land and built unpretentious dwellings surrounded by dairy, smokehouse, and other buildings; planted tobacco, wheat, and corn; erected water grist mills on the sinuous Nottoway and Blackwater rivers; worked the slaves it could not profitably hire out; raised cattle, hogs, and sheep; laid out apple and peach orchards; railed against the abuses and

Joel Barker, Jethro Barker, and Mr John Barker were also tithables in 1698, and Joel and Jethro Barker were listed in 1702.
NOTE: In order for Joel Barker to be a tithable in 1688 he would have had to been born by 1672 or before. List of tithables Surry Co., VA June 10, 1694. List Joel Barker with Howell Edmunds (b. 1678?) living with him, and also list George Barker with George Briggs living with him.

Note: This court proceeding indicates that Joel had come of age and was suing Jno Good for his inheritance from his father's estate, which suggest that his birth may have been closer to 1769. This entry also proves Joel & Jethro were brothers.

Note: Joel Barker and Henry Harrison (son of Benjamin Harrison) witnessed the above deed in 1707. I have inserted this deed as evidence of the relationship between Joel Barker and the Harrison family. There is also evidence of a possible relationship between the Barkers and William Killingsworth and John Harris. I think a Cotton may have married a Harris.

Surry Deeds, Wills, etc., Bk 5, 1694-1709, 6 May 1706...Joel Barker & wf. Katherine Barker, of Southwarke Parish to William Killingsworth of the same for 2000 pound tobacco...100 acres in Southwarke Parish adjoining said Barker, and Killingsworth and the Otterdam Swamp. Wit; William Edmunds and Francis Clements. Rec'd 6 May 1711, Surry Co. Deed Bk 5, p.370.
Note: This 100 acres of land was bought from brother, Jethro, in 1693. The above deed was witnessed by William Edmunds whose daughter, Sarah, married a Joel Barker after 1730.

Note: Thomas Blunt, Sr. in his will dated 21 Sept 1708 made his wife, Priscilla Blunt, executor of his estate, Priscilla was the second wife of Thomas Blunt and married William Thomas before 1716. Thomas Blunt, Jr. was established as executor of his father's will 20 Mar 1716. Thomas Blunt, Jr. made his will in Surry Co. 9 Feb 1718. He mentions his nieces Anne Edmunds and Jane Flood in his will, but mentions no children for Joel Barker. The fact that no children were mentioned for Joel Barker is good evidence that this was possibly a short and childless marriage. Thomas Blunt, Jr. died before 15 April 1719 when his will was probated. On 15 May 1718, in Isle of Wight Co., Thomas Blunt, Jr. made a deed to John Flood, Howell Edmunds, and Joel Barker for the land they inheired from his father's will. I believe Joel Barker's wife, who was a daughter of Thomas Blunt, Sr., died shortly after her father made his will. Joel Barker remarried before 16 April 1711 to a daughter of Benjamin Harrison. Benjamin Harrison named Joel Barker in his will of that date giving him the land that he lives on that leyes on ye Wildcatt. On 6 May 1711, just two months after Benjamin Harrison made his will, Joel Barker & wf., Katherine, sold the 100 acres of land to William Killingsworth that Joel had bought from his brother, Jethro, in 1693 . In 1716 Joel Barker patented 170 acres Uppper Parish of Surry Co. on S. side the main Blackwater Sw; beg. at the Wild Catt Br; on the College Line. This may have been the land he received from Benjamin Harrison. In 1724 Joel patented an additional 100 acs in Surry Co. on S. side of the main Blackwater Sw., adjoining his own land, and in 1732 Joel patented another 100 acres on the south side of the Blackwater Swamp at the Wildcatt Branch adjoining the land of Thomas Edmunds.

DEEDS

17 Mar 1748...Joel Barker to Simon Stacy for 25 pds current money....185 acres bounded by Broad Bottom Branch, the Wildcatt Branch, Edmunds and the College Line. Wit: John Lamb, Thomas Tomlinson, (John Barker). Surry Co. VA Deeds Bk 5, p. 361.

 21 Mar 1748... Joel Barker to Thomas Tomlinson for 37 pds current money...two tracts of land with one containing 85 acres and bounded by Wildcatt Branch, said Barker and John Edmunds. The 85 acres tract was granted said Barker on 31 Oct 1716 and the 100 acres tract was granted said Barker on 28 Sept 1732. Wit: James Chappell, Jr., William Rogers, and Simon Stacy. Surry Co. VA Deeds bk 5, p. 364.

Note: Joel Barker lived on the South side of the Blackwater Swamp at the Wildcatt Branch in Albemarle Parish in that part of Surry Co. that became Sussex Co. in 1754. He lived on the same land from 1711-1748 when he sold his land to Simon Stacy and Thomas Tomlinson. Joel would have been about the age of 76-80 years in 1748. The above two deeds account for all of the 370 acres of land patented by Joel Barker, and since his wife was not mentioned in the deeds she may have already passed.

Assuming Joel married about 1693 and his 1st wife died about 1709 he could have sired at least eight or more children over the 16 year period. However, considering the fact that he deeded to Howell Edmunds the land he inheired from Thomas Blunt might indicate that he had no children heirs to Thomas Blunts estate. His second marriage to Benjamin Harrison's daughter would have taken place between 1709 and Apr 1711.

I have found no other deeds for Joel Barker, Sr. which leads to the conclusion that after selling his land he was living with one of his sons.

Joel Barker never made a Will and he never deeded any land to a son or daughter, which makes it impossible to prove a descendancy from Joel. However, I theorize that children of Joel Barker can be determined by the process of elimination.

By using deeds and wills to follow the disposition of land from one generation to the next for John and Jethro Barker I have not been able to attach Joel & wf Sarah, John & wf. Elizabeth, and William & wf. Priscilla as children of John or Jethro Barker. The fact that Joel & John Barker were listed in the Albemarle Parish Register in Sussex County adds additional prove to this theory. Also, they both lived on Pigeon Roost Creek in Brunswick County for a while. Joel migrated to Wake Co., NC where he died in 1779. Some of the children of William & Priscilla settled in Wake Co. John Barker & wf. Elizabeth left Brunswick Co. in 1791 and moved to Iredell Co., NC where he died in 1808. His son Howell named a son Joel and the names of other descendants are alike with the descendants of William Barker, who died in Orange Co., NC.

The only other Joel Barker I have found in Surry Co. records was the son of John Barker and wf Mary (Moring- Barker) Morris, who's will was probated in 1742. The following court records for Surry Co. appear to be for this Joel.

Surry Co., VA Court Record 1741-1745, Book VIII, by Weynette Parks Haun.

FACTS OF INTEREST
The following facts occur when you attach Joel, John, & William as sons of Joel Barker.
1-Joel Barker, Sr. becomes father-in-laws to William Edmunds, Hincha Gilliam, & Henry Briggs.
2-Wm. Edmunds' wf Mary & Hincha Gilliam's wf Faith are daughters of Samuel Briggs.
3-Joel Barker, Jr's wf. Sarah, daug. of Wm. Edmunds & wf Mary Briggs, & John's wf. Elizabeth, daug. of Hincha Gilliam & Faith Briggs, are grand daughters of Samuel Briggs and therefore 1st cousins.
4-William Barker's wf Priscilla, daug. of Henry Briggs, is a niece of Samuel Briggs and therefore a 1st cousin to Sarah & Elizabeth.
SURRY CO. TITHABLES

http://www.genealogy.com/users/b/a/r/Larry-H-Barkre/FILE/0005text.txt

NOTE: Census of Tithables in Surry Co., VA in 1688, 1678, 1688 and 1698. Until after the Revolution, taxes in Virginia were imposed chiefly according to the number of tithables in each county. The tithables consisted of all male natives of the county, and imported free persons, above sixteen: and all male and female Negro and Indian servants, whether above or under sixteen. The population was generally estimated at four times the tithables.
Joel Barker first appears as a tithable in 1688 along with Mr. John Barker, Jethro Barker, and Thomas Barker. A list of tithables taken June 10, 1694 for Southwark Parish and Lawnes Creek Parish included Joel Barker, George Barker, and John Barker. Joel Barker, Jethro Barker, and Mr John Barker were also tithables in 1698, and Joel and Jethro Barker wer listed in 1702. NOTE: for Joel Barker to be a tithable in 1688 he would have had to been born around 1670 or before. List of tithables Surry Co., VA June 10, 1694 list Joel Barker with Howell Edmunds (b. 1678?) living with him. Also, list George Barker with George Briggs living with him.

Note: These deeds indicate that the land owned by Joel was located in Sussex Co.

Theory: Joel Barker would have been about 80 yrs of age in 1748. I believe that the John Barker, who witnessed the above deed, was Joel's son. John would have been between 28-32 yrs of age at this time and was possibly living with his father. I have not found any deeds in Surry Co. that appear to pertain to this John. Since I have found no other deeds for this Joel, I believe Joel sold his land and moved to Brunswick Co., VA and lived with his son John until he died. In 1791 John Barker, who died in 1808, sold his land in Brunswick Co. and moved with his son Hinchea to Iredell Co., NC.

NOTE:
Will of Thomas Blunt, Surry Co., dated 21 Sep 1708
I give unto Howell Edmunds and unto Joel Barker ye remaining part of ye pat. of land which lyeth on ye side of sd swamp to be equally divided between them and then Howell Edmunds to have his first choice. Joel Barker sold his share of the land to Howell Edmunds ten years later in May 1718. Howell Edmunds and Joel would have been brother-in-laws.
Joel Barker was also listed in the will of Benjamin Harrison dated 1711 and received land on the Wild Catt that leyes on ye south side ye branch whereon he now lives. This indicates that Joel was a son-in-law of Bemjamin Harrison. It appears that Joel may have been married twice. I have researched the Harrison and the Blunt families and to date have not found any information that would identify Katherine (wf of Joel) as a daughter of either family.

DEEDS PERTAINING TO OTHER JOEL BARKERS

1745, p. 352, 16 Oct 1745...Joell Barker and wf Sarah Barker, to Richard Parker, Jr. for 45 pds current money....280 acres on norht side of Nottoway River (being the land sd Barker lives on and was a patent granted to William Edmunds on 30 Oct 1727) bounded by the south side of Cabbin Branch, Richard Parker, Jr., Benjamin Clements and the Nottoway Indians land. Wit: Harrood Clary, James (X) Massingall and Joseph (X) Hix. Rec. 20 Oct 1747, Signed Lemuel Lanier & Hannah Lanier. (Surry Co. Dd Bk #5, 1746-1749, by Hopkins)

Note: The above Joel Barker married a daughter of William Edmunds. William Edmunds witnessed a deed for Joel Barker, Sr. in 1706, which is another indication that this Joel may have been a son of Joel. The father of William Edmunds has not been determined and therefore the relationship between him and Howell Edmunds has not been established. This Joel had two sons (Edmund & Lewis) and was living on Pigeon Roost Creek in Brunswick Co., VA along with John Barker who died in 1808 in Iredell Co., NC. Joel moved to Wake Co., NC where he died in 1779.

EDITORIAL POLICY: The Magazine of Virginia Genealogy solicits unpublished primary source data of genealogical significance. Previously published material is acceptable if it is derived from rare, little-known, or hard-to-find publications not easily available to general readers. Early tax lists, tithables, church membership rolls, ship's passenger lists, buyers at estate sales, materials not included in indexes such as Swem, are welcome contributions. An effort will be made to balance material on a geographical basis and for reader interest. Seventeenth and eighteenth century sources are preferred, although the early decades of the nineteenth century will be included. Family histories should be sufficiently comprehensive to interest readers in migratory routes, in methods of research for given areas, and in possible neighbors of their ancestors. In compiling manuscripts all references of any nature should give sources, including locations of Bible records, cemeteries, etc. Manuscripts submitted for publication are judged for factual accuracy, clarity of thought, documentation, readability, and appeal to the membership of the Society. While the material will be checked for accuracy and originality, neither the Virginia Genealogical Society, its Editorial Advisory Committee, its Editorial Advisory Board, nor the Editor of the Magazine of Virginia Genealogy can assume responsibility for errors on the part of its contributors. Corrections of proved errors will appear in subsequent issues of the magazine.

COPYRIGHTS: All material appearing in the Magazine of Virginia Genealogy will be copyrighted in the name of the Society. This copyright is used for the protection of original material published herein, and is not intended to interfere with copyright held on, or inherent in, materials quoted or cited by our authors. Contributors who wish to do so may retain secondary publication rights in submitting their material. The notation "First serial publication right only" will suffice. It is understood, however, that records in the public domain, such as tombstone inscriptions, tax records, or deeds, cannot be copyrighted; abstracts or transcriptions of such material may be protected in the form in what they are submitted, and the form this material takes in the Magazine of Virginia Genealogy will be covered by the general copyright in the name of the Society. Contributors should be careful not to infringe on the copyright of others. Researchers are reminded that photocopied material has frequently been obtained from copyrighted sources. Careful attention to proper acknowledgements will usually prevent copyright violations. Neither the Society nor its officers are responsible for the infringement of copyrights by contributyors. The borrowing of material from the Magazine of Virginia Genealogy for subsequent publication must have the written approval of either the Editor or the contributor who has retained secondary publication rights.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS: Please notify the Society promptly when changing an address. The Society is required to pay for undeliverable returned magazines and newsletters and for re-mailing to a new address. When this occurs, appropriate charges have to be made.

BARKER OF SURRY

John Barker, Master of the good ship, "Abraham", set sail from London "bound for Virginia about November 20, 1635 (Hotten 138) with 51 passengers. It is not known whetern or not he was any relation to William Barker, Master of the "America" who sailed from Gravesend June 23, 1635 with 88 persons. William Barker, Mariner, is known to have patented land in Charles City county 1635 (VHG-146).

A John Barker patented 300 acres in James City county, Nov. 29, 1649, "lying upon the very head of the main branch of Lower Chippokees Creek bounded upon the land of Master Dunston and William Carter for the transportation of 6 persons" (C.P.187). He may not have been John Barker, Master of the Abraham.

On Jan. 9, 1653, Theodrick Bland, of John Bland and Co., merchants, for 10000 pounds of good tobacco conveyed unto John Barker, Planter, a plantation bounding upon the main river of Upper Chippokes Creek (Surry, 1645-72, p.38) Wits: Richard Stevens, John Holmwood.

John Barker Sr. on Sept. 2, 1673, with his wife, Anne Barker, conveyed unto John Barker, Planter, a plantation bounding upon the main river of Upper Chippokes Creek (Surry Co. Wills, Deeds, Orders Vol.1671-84, p.32) "To all people whom this deed, sale or writing of Bargain & Saill shall come, wee, Joh: Barker, Senr. of the parish of Southwick in the County of Surry in Virga and Anne, my wife, the late wife and Executrix of the last will and testament of Geo. Wits: Wm. Sherwood — Signed John Barker
Robt. Lee — Ann Barker

Mrs. Ann Barker was the "mother in law" (stepmother) of John Barker, the Younger, as proven by the following deed, dated March 3, 1673/74, in which John Barker, Junior, conveyed the previously mentioned 75 acres back to his father and stepmother:

"Whereas Mrs. Anne Barker, Mother in law to me, John Barker, Junr. did convey unto me a p'cell of land scituate in Maritins Brandon being 75 acres by a deed bearing date 2d 7br 1673---
(No witnesses) (Signed) Jno Barker Junr".

"Whereas my son John Barker Junior, did convey unto me, John Barker, Senior, both then of Surry County----75 acres lying in Martins Brandon in Charles Citty County--- John Barker
(No wits) (Id. 1671-84, pp.43,68)

On Aug. 10, 1678, John Barker, Senr. of Martins Brandon in Charles Citty County, planter, with the approbation and consent of Ann, his wife, for 16000# of good merchantable Toba conveyed unto Benjamin Harrison---of that part of Devident of land in Surry County above the head of Upper Chippokes Creek whereon I formerly lived---patent granted unto me 18 Dec. 1662 being in quantity 1800 acres.

Wits: Elias Osborne — John Barker
Jethro his B mark Barker — Ann Barker

Letitia Barker, probably mother of John Barker Jr. witnessed the following deed in 1671:------that I Vincent Inge doe constitute ---my loving friend, Isaac Watson To be my ---lawful attorney to sue---from any person in James City County or Surry County in Virga

Wits: Letitia Barker — Vincent Inge
Hen: Knight

John Barker, the Elder, had two sons other than John Barker, his son and heir, as proven by the following Court order: (Charles City County Orders 1687-1695, p.328, Date 5 January 1690)

"Judgement is granted Joel Barker agst John Good of Martins Brandon for 8000 pounds of Tobo & casq which appears from ye sd Good to the sd Barker by ye will and testament of John Barker father to the said Joel. He the said (Good) having intermarried with the Admtrx of the said decedent & it is ordered ye upon receipt of the said Tobacco both ye sd Joel and Jethro Barker signe a sufficient discharge therefor & allsoe allow in discount from this judgement what tobo: already received from ye Goods on this account----".

John Barker Jr. of Surry Co., Va. on Oct. 5, 1657 patented 600 acres on Upper Chippokes Creek (C.P.415). The dates of his birth and marriage are unknown. He married Grace, probable daughter of Thomas Busby and probable granddaughter of Francis (Capt.) Grey and his wife, Grace, about 1680. Since John Barker Jr. executed a deed in 1673, he was born by or before 1652. It appears that Thomas Busby and John Barker were among the "Rebels" who took possession of "Bacon's Castle" (Arthur Allen's home) during the Rebellion, for "Bacon's Lieutenant, Thomas Busby, at whose house no guard was found during the critical days of Mid-September, along with a number of Bacon's men (among whom was JOHN BARKER) agreed to pay Arthur Allen damages, Nov. 15, 1677" (Co.Surry 138-9).

John Barker Jr. died in Surry County, after the 9th Oct. 1713 and before 19th May 1714. His will was recorded in Surry County

Deeds No. 5, 1709-1715. Abstract follows:

Wits.: Thomas Cotten, John Johnson, Elizabeth Figures
Dated Oct.9, 1713, probated May 19, 1714.

Elizabeth, probable eldest child of John and Grace----? Barker, m. (1) Christopher Foster: (2) Thomas Andrews. Christopher Foster was the son of Mary (Jordan), sister of Lt. Col. George Jordan of Surry County. Mary Jordan m. (1) Arthur Bailey, (2) Christopher Foster, first name unknown. However, we know from the will (1678, Surry Co.) of Lt. Col. Jordan that among seven nephews one was Christopher Foster (See Jordan).

Christopher Foster, nephew of Lt. Col. Jordan, was born 1649 (Surry Co. depositions), place unknown. He died after March 27, 1711 (will) and before July 18, 1711: m. between 1689 and 1696, Elizabeth, daughter of John and Grace-----Barker. John Foster was named in his will as the eldest son and was probably the eldest child. On the 20th Feb. 1711/12, John Foster appeared in Court (Surry Co. Orders, 1691-1713, p.388) and "made choice of Edward Bailey for his guardian". Thus we know that his parents were married by 1696.

The will of Christopher Foster was recorded in Surry County Deeds, etc. No.5, 1709-1715. Abstract:

my eldest son John Foster---- my youngest son Christopher Foster----

John Westbrook, son of John Westbrook and "beloved wife" (Will Book 3, p 357, I. of W) married (1) daughter of Christopher and Alice (Fort) Foster, as proved by the court records of Southampton County. There was born to them sons, John, William, Moses, James, and Elias. After the death of his first wife,---- (Foster) Westbrook, he married Honour Ramsey by whom there were sons , Burwell and Gray. John Westbrook's will is of record in Southampton Will Book One, p 391; Dated Apr.7,1761; rec.Aug. 13,1761. Wit.John Person, Joshua Cland, Richard Taylor Jr. John Westbrook predeceased his father-in-law, Christopher Foster who became guardian of John Westbrook's children by his first wife, the daughter of Christopher Foster, vis., John, William, Moses, James, and Elias. All of the children, including Gray and Burwell by the second wife, removed to No. Carolina. (For descendants see Westbrook). (Compiled from records furnished by Mr. William Blair Jones of Pell City, Alabama)

John^{3} Barker, son of Grace and John^{2} Barker, Jr., was bequeathed by his father "400 acres where he now lives joining the plantation I live on", and "my plantation on the Nottaway River, 222 acres on Indian Cabin branch after his mother's decease." On June 16, 1721, John Barker and Mary, his wife, of Southwark Parish sold Thomas Peters 223 acres on Cabbin Branch adjoining William Hunt. Wits.: Benj. Chap. Donaldson, John Mitchel, Gerald Green (BK 8-p.367) This land, consisting of 446 acres, had been patented by his father, July 12, 1718," on the north side of the Nottaway River adjoining Wm. Hunt". (P B 10,-390)

John Barker made his will may 21, 1725; probated April 21, 1742. He gave his son, JOHN BARKER land between Reedy Branch and Cattail Swamp; to son CHRISTOPHER. "land that parts my father's and me to one Cattail Branch;" daughter Mary mentioned; other estate to be divided between wife Mary and five other children not mentioned by name. wife MARY extrix; Wits.: John Collier, Nicholas Cocke; Joshua Nicholson. Presented in court by MARY MORRIS late MARY BARKER, extrix. (W.B. 1738-54 p. 407)

Josiah[3] Barker, brother of the above John Barker, married Faith Washington, daughter of Richard Washington. On Feb.14, 1720/21 he sold to Richard Parker, Jr., 223 acres in Cabbin Creek; wits.: James Washington, Thomas Bailey, Samuel Briggs. (1715-20-p.306) On Aug.16, 1729, he bought 115 acres on Blackwater Swamp, from John Allen. (Id.967) He and wife Faith on Jan. 17, 1737, sold David Jones two tracts on Main Blackwater Swamp; one 115 purchased from John Allen, and 195 patented by him Sept. 28, 1732. (1730-38-p.800) Josiah made his will Feb.23, 1760, proven March 17, 1761. He gave son, JOHN BARKER 150 acres, where he dwells; son ARTHUR 100 acres; son RIVERS BARKER, plantation where he formerly dwelt for life, then to his son William; son SAMUEL, "plantation where I dwell and land adjoining John Barker to Trudy Branch, he to pay his sister FAITH BARKER Ł 20 and Sarah, Fathy and Mary Ellis, 20 shillings each.....Mentioned Grace Barker; wife Faithy, chattles, ect., Exrs.; sons John and Samuel; wits.: Philip Reekes, Benj. Emrey, Faith Emery (W.B. 1754-68 p.250).

Grace[3] Barker, sister of the above John Barker and Josiah Barker made her will Feb. 19, 1741, proven May 15, 1750. Her legatees were: brother Josiah; cousin Richard Barker; "my plantation with 300 acres, 100 acres to go to his brother John Barker when of age; to cousin Josiah Barker; cousin Mary Bishop; Mary Bishop's son James; cousins William, Joshua and Joell Barker; gifts to Faith and Elizabeth Barker. Richard Barker, exr.; Wits.: Robert Lanier, Josiah (C) Barker, Josiah Barker. (W.B. 1738-54 p.673.) Grace Barker died Nov. 3, 1749.

Joell[2] Barker, son of John[1] Barker, Sr., together with his brothers John and Jethro of Southwark Parish, sold him 200 acres in that parish for 1000 lbs. of tobacco. This was part of a patent of 261 acres granted Jethro Oct.20, 1689, adjoining Joell's plantation. The deed was dated April 20, 1693; wits.; Benj. Harrison, Silas Smith. (B.K.4-298). On May 6, 1707, Joell sold this land to William Killingsworth for 2000 lbs. of tobacco; wits.: Wm. Edmunds, Francis Clements. (BK.1694-1702, p.370). In 1694, Joel Barker was listed with two tithables, consisting of himself and Howell Edmunds, who was evidently between the ages of 16 and 21. The estate records of Joel have not been found, so date of his death is uncertain. From other wills and deeds it appears that his children were: JOHN BARKER, whose will was dated April 11, 1736 and proven Sept. 1740. He bequeaths his plantation to sister MARY BARKER, after her death it was to go to his brother, JOSHUA BARKER. Mary Barker, executrix; wits.: Josiah (J) Barker, Faith Barker. Will was presented in court by MARY BISHOP, executrix named. Inventory presented by James Bishop, husband of Mary. (1738-54-p.211.)

On Feb.8, 1750, WILLIAM BARKER of Southwark Parish, HENRY (Z) BARKER, of Martin's Brandon, Prince George, and Joshua Barker of Southwark Parish Surry sold 130 acres on Reedy Branch and Cattail Branch to James Bishop and wife Mary, BROTHER-IN-LAW and SISTER of the Grantors; wits.: Joseph Carter, Caleb ELLIS, Robert Ray. (D.B. 6,1749-53 p.147.)

JOELL and RICHARD BARKER mentioned in the will of Grace Barker may have been two other sons of Joell[2] Barker, Sr. The children of some of the above sons of Joell[2] Barker appear in the Albermarle Parish Register.

Jethro[2] Barker was the son of John[1] Barker, Sr., and brother of John[2] and Joell[2]. (ante) Jethro's first appearance in the county records was on Sept.10,1678, when he witnessed a deed, as Jethro (B) Barker, from his father to Benj. Harrison for 1800 acres patented Dec.18,1662, (D.B.2, 1671-84, p.186). John Barker, Sr., and Ann his wife were of Martin Brandon's Parish, Charles City County, (later Prince George) and that land was on Chippoakes Creek where they formerly lived. On the back of a patent for 240 acres, granted to John Barker, Sept.9, 1682, was an assignment by John Barker and Grace his wife, for a consideration, of all right and title, dated July 4, 1685; wits.: Benj.Harrison, Richard Taylor. (D.B. 3,p.31.) This patent was located on the north side of Otterdam Swamp, adjoining Benj. Harrison and Mr. Jordan. (P.B. 7-189).

Jethro Barker patented 261 acres Oct.20, 1689 on the south side of Otterdam Swamp at Edward Gunnell's line; 165 acres April 1, 1717 on south west side of main Blackwater Swamp and 120 acres Sept. 5, 1723 on the south side of the same place. (P.B. 8 p.7;10 p.314;11,267.)

On July 6, 1685, Jethro sold to John Harris 120 acres of a patent located above Jethro's dwelling place. This was evidently one half of the patent he received from his brother John. Jethro Barker and Mary his wife, Sept. 1, 1690, sold 60 acres on the south side of Otterdam Swamp to William Killingsworth; wits.: Adam Heath, Richard Skogeny (?). (D.B.4-158). William Harvey of Southwark Parish, Surry, Jan.15, 1694, sold him 235 acres of a Patent of 335 acres granted Thomas Cotton April 16, 1683 and sold by him Nov.3, 1685, to said Harvey, on Otterdam Swamp, adjoining Jethro Barker's own land. Wits.: Benj. and Nathaniel Harrison. (BK.1694-1709-p.51)(P.B. 7-280) (Wm. Harvey made his will in 1704.)

Henry[3] Barker, son of Jethro[2], married Catherine, family name unknown. After Henry's death she married Timothy Rives Feb. 12, 1763. She died April 4, 1772. Henry died March 21, 1759 (A.P.R.)

Charles[4] Barker, Sr., was born about 1741 in Surry County, Virginia, where his father and mother, Henry and Catharine Barker lived. Henry died in Surry County in 1759.

In 1761, Charles, Sr., and Ann Barker his wife, received a patent for 100 acres of land in Surry County. About 1766 he moved to Nottoway Parish (later to become Nottoway County, Amelia County, Virginia) and there bought 263 acres on Nov.24,1766. Four years later in 1770, he sold his Surry County land and in his deed described himself and wife as residents of Amelia.

Charles[4] Barker, Sr., may have served as a private in the 11th.Virginia Regiment, Col.A.Buford, commanding. A Charles Barker received his discharge from the Army at Hillsborough, Oct.25,1780. However, there were three slave holding Charles Barkers, heads of families in the Virginia Census of 1782-1784; one in Amelia, one in Cumberland, and one in Hanover.

The Revolutionary record of Charles Barker was as follows:

BOUNTY WARRENT

I do certify, that Charles Barker is entitled to the proportion of land allowed a Private of the Continental line, for three years service.

Council Chamber
Ap'l 20th,1784. Tho. Meriwether.

Benj. Harrison.

In 1781 and 1783, Charles, Sr., furnished rations to the Continental Armies and was allowed claims in Amelia County therefor. (Amelia, Court Booklet 1, -pp. 21, 61)

The personal property records of Amelia for 1782 showed him as having 9 slaves, including "George". This is interesting, because in the will of Henry Barker, Charles father, Henry bequeathed a slave named "George" to his son, Charles. Charles, Sr., continued on the personal property lists of Nottoway County until 1793.

Charles Barker, Jr., from 1793 to 1799 appears on the personal property lists in Nottoway County.

Charles, Jr., bought 770 acres in Halifax County in 1797 and 540 acres in 1800. The 1797 deed describes the grantee as "Charles Barker of Nottoway County, Virginia."

Charles Barker, Jr., married Barbara Walton August 18, 1791, in Mecklenburg County. If we assume that he was 21 when he married, then Charles, Jr., was born in 1771, after his father had moved to Amelia County.

Charles Meriwether of Albemarle County bought lands in Halifax County in 1801. He married Mary Daniel, formally Mary Walton, in Halifax County in 1808. Charles Barker, Jr., sold both tracts of his Halifax County land. In 1809 Charles Meriwether sold his land. They both moved to Kentucky in 1809.

The will of Charles Barker, Sr., is dated Halifax County, Jan. 8, 1801. He refers to a granddaughter, Jane Anderson, who at that time was a minor living with her uncle, Charles, Jr. Charles was his only known son.

Sometime prior to August 1791, in the Halifax County Virginia Court "Charles Barker, Jr., an infant by Charles Barker, Sr., his father as Plaintiff, brought suit for a debt due December 1790, against James Pauls, defendant. In March 1793, the case was continued and at this time Charles Barker, Jr., appeared in his own right and not as an infant.

Charles Barker, Jr., married first Barbara Ann Walton, the daughter of Barbara (Hester) and Edward Sims Walton, in Mecklenburg County, Virginia, in 1791. Barbara was born in Mecklenburg County, in 1772 and died at "Fairfields", Montgomery County, Tennessee in 1821. His second wife, whom he married in 1824, was born at Hopkinsville, Christian County, Kentucky.

When Charles Barker and his friend and brother-in-law, Dr. Charles Meriwether reached Kentucky in 1809 they settled on a strata of rich loam so far south in Kentucky that later, when the Federal Government did survey the line between Kentucky and Tennessee much of their land fell in Montgomery County, Tenn; also the Barker's home "Fairfield". This survey is noted in the Day Book of "Woodstock" farm rather as an interruption to the farm work than as an historical event; in several instances through the first years the inconvenience of the rock piled markers in the big rolling fields is noted.

Mr. Barker was the most extensive land owner in Christian Co., Ky. He had $100,000.00 on deposit in the Bank of England at the time of his death in 1898. He had contributed a like amount in gold to the cause of the Confederacy. He founded "Glenburnie".

BARKER OF SURRY

John Barker, Master of the good ship, "Abraham", set sail from London "bound for Virginia about November 20, 1635 (Hotten 138) with 51 passengers. It is not known whetern or not he was any relation to William Barker, Master of the "America" who sailed from Gravesend June 23, 1635 with 88 persons. William Barker, Mariner, is known to have patented land in Charles City county 1635 (VHG-146).

A John Barker patented 300 acres in James City county, Nov. 29, 1649, "lying upon the very head of the main branch of Lower Chippokees Creek bounded upon the land of Master Dunston and William Carter for the transportation of 6 persons" (C.P.187). He may not have been John Barker, Master of the Abraham.

On Jan. 9, 1653, Theodrick Bland, of John Bland and Co., merchants, for 10000 pounds of good tobacco conveyed unto John Barker, Planter, a plantation bounding upon the main river of Upper Chippokes Creek (Surry, 1645-72, p.38) Wits: Richard Stevens, John Holmwood.

Robt. Lee — Ann Barker

Mrs. Ann Barker was the "mother in law" (stepmother) of John Barker, the Younger, as proven by the following deed, dated March 3, 1673/74, in which John Barker, Junior, conveyed the previously mentioned 75 acres back to his father and stepmother:

"Whereas Mrs. Anne Barker, Mother in law to me, John Barker, Junr. did convey unto me a p'cell of land scituate in Maritins Brandon being 75 acres by a deed bearing date 2d 7br 1673---

John Barker, the Elder, had two sons other than John Barker, his son and heir, as proven by the following Court order: (Charles City County Orders 1687-1695, p.328, Date 5 January 1690)

"Judgement is granted Joel Barker agst John Good of Martins Brandon for 8000 pounds of Tobo & casq which appears from ye sd Good to the sd Barker by ye will and testament of John Barker father to the said Joel. He the said (Good) having intermarried with the Admtrx of the said decedent & it is ordered ye upon receipt of the said Tobacco both ye sd Joel and Jethro Barker signe a sufficient discharge therefor & allsoe allow in discount from this judgement what tobo: already received from ye Goods on this account----".

John Barker Jr. of Surry Co., Va. on Oct. 5, 1657 patented 600 acres on Upper Chippokes Creek (C.P.415). The dates of his birth and marriage are unknown. He married Grace, probable daughter of Thomas Busby and probable granddaughter of Francis (Capt.) Grey and his wife, Grace, about 1680. Since John Barker Jr. executed a deed in 1673, he was born by or before 1652. It appears that Thomas Busby and John Barker were among the "Rebels" who took possession of "Bacon's Castle" (Arthur Allen's home) during the Rebellion, for "Bacon's Lieutenant, Thomas Busby, at whose house no guard was found during the critical days of Mid-September, along with a number of Bacon's men (among whom was JOHN BARKER) agreed to pay Arthur Allen damages, Nov. 15, 1677" (Co.Surry 138-9).

John Barker Jr. died in Surry County, after the 9th Oct. 1713 and before 19th May 1714. His will was recorded in Surry County

Deeds No. 5, 1709-1715. Abstract follows:

Elizabeth, probable eldest child of John and Grace----? Barker, m. (1) Christopher Foster: (2) Thomas Andrews. Christopher Foster was the son of Mary (Jordan), sister of Lt. Col. George Jordan of Surry County. Mary Jordan m. (1) Arthur Bailey, (2) -------Foster, first name unknown. However, we know from the will (1678, Surry Co.) of Lt. Col. Jordan that among seven nephews one was Christopher Foster (See Jordan).

Christopher Foster, nephew of Lt. Col. Jordan, was born 1649 (Surry Co. depositions), place unknown. He died after March 27, 1711 (will) and before July 18, 1711: m. between 1689 and 1696, Elizabeth, daughter of John and Grace-----Barker. John Foster was named in his will as the eldest son and was probably the eldest child. On the 20th Feb. 1711/12, John Foster appeared in Court (Surry Co. Orders, 1691-1713, p.388) and "made choice of Edward Bailey for his guardian". Thus we know that his parents were married by 1696.

The will of Christopher Foster was recorded in Surry County Deeds, etc. No.5, 1709-1715. Abstract:

(Compiled from records furnished by Mr. William Blair Jones of Pell City, Alabama)

John^3 Barker, son of Grace and John^2 Barker, Jr., was bequeathed by his father "400 acres where he now lives joining the plantation I live on", and "my plantation on the Nottaway River, 222 acres on Indian Cabin branch after his mother's decease." On June 16, 1721, John Barker and Mary, his wife, of Southwark Parish sold Thomas Peters 223 acres on Cabbin Branch adjoining William Hunt. Wits.: Benj. Chap. Donaldson, John Mitchel, Gerald Green (BK 8-p.367) This land, consisting of 446 acres, had been patented by his father, July 12, 1718," on the north side of the Nottaway River adjoining Wm. Hunt". (P B 10,-390)

John Barker made his will may 21, 1725; probated April 21, 1742. He gave his son, JOHN BARKER land between Reedy Branch and Cattail Swamp; to son CHRISTOPHER. "land that parts my father's and me to one Cattail Branch;" daughter Mary mentioned; other estate to be divided between wife Mary and five other children not mentioned by name. wife MARY extrix; Wits.: John Collier, Nicholas Cocke; Joshua Nicholson. Presented in court by MARY MORRIS late MARY BARKER, extrix. (W.B. 1738-54 p. 407)

Josiah[3] Barker, brother of the above John Barker, married Faith Washington, daughter of Richard Washington. On Feb.14, 1720/21 he sold to Richard Parker, Jr., 223 acres in Cabbin Creek; wits.: James Washington, Thomas Bailey, Samuel Briggs. (1715-20-p.306) On Aug.16, 1729, he bought 115 acres on Blackwater Swamp, from John Allen. (Id.967) He and wife Faith on Jan. 17, 1737, sold David Jones two tracts on Main Blackwater Swamp: one 115 purchased from John Allen, and 195 patented by him Sept. 28, 1732. (1730-38-p.800) Josiah made his will Feb.23, 1760, proven March 17, 1761. He gave son, JOHN BARKER 150 acres, where he dwells; son ARTHUR 100 acres; son RIVERS BARKER, plantation where he formerly dwelt for life, then to his son William; son SAMUEL, "plantation where I dwell and land adjoining John Barker to Trudy Branch, he to pay his sister FAITH BARKER Ł 20 and Sarah, Fathy and Mary Ellis, 20 shillings each.....Mentioned Grace Barker; wife Faithy, chattles, ect., Exrs.; sons John and Samuel; wits.: Philip Reekes, Benj. Emrey, Faith Emery (W.B. 1754-68 p.250).

Her legatees were: brother Josiah; cousin Richard Barker; "my plantation with 300 acres, 100 acres to go to his brother John Barker when of age; to cousin Josiah Barker; cousin Mary Bishop; Mary Bishop's son James; cousins William, Joshua and Joell Barker; gifts to Faith and Elizabeth Barker. Richard Barker, exr.; Wits.: Robert Lanier, Josiah (C) Barker, Josiah Barker. (W.B. 1738-54 p.673.) Grace Barker died Nov. 3, 1749.

Joell[2] Barker, son of John[1] Barker, Sr., together with his brothers John and Jethro of Southwark Parish, sold him 200 acres in that parish for 1000 lbs. of tobacco. This was part of a patent of 261 acres granted Jethro Oct.20, 1689, adjoining Joell's plantation. The deed was dated April 20, 1693; wits.; Benj. Harrison, Silas Smith. (B.K.4-298). On May 6, 1707, Joell sold this land to William Killingsworth for 2000 lbs. of tobacco; wits.: Wm. Edmunds, Francis Clements. (BK.1694-1702, p.370). In 1694, Joel Barker was listed with two tithables, consisting of himself and Howell Edmunds, who was evidently between the ages of 16 and 21. The estate records of Joel have not been found, so date of his death is uncertain. From other wills and deeds it appears that his children were: JOHN BARKER, whose will was dated April 11, 1736 and proven Sept. 1740. He bequeaths his plantation to sister MARY BARKER, after her death it was to go to his brother, JOSHUA BARKER. Mary Barker, executrix; wits.: Josiah (J) Barker, Faith Barker. Will was presented in court by MARY BISHOP, executrix named. Inventory presented by James Bishop, husband of Mary. (1738-54-p.211.)

(D.B. 6,1749-53 p.147.)

JOELL and RICHARD BARKER mentioned in the will of Grace Barker may have been two other sons of Joell[2] Barker, Sr. The children of some of the above sons of Joell[2] Barker appear in the Albermarle Parish Register.

Jethro[2] Barker was the son of John[1] Barker, Sr., and brother of John[2] and Joell[2]. (ante) Jethro's first appearance in the county records was on Sept.10,1678, when he witnessed a deed, as Jethro (B) Barker, from his father to Benj. Harrison for 1800 acres patented Dec.18,1662, (D.B.2, 1671-84, p.186). John Barker, Sr., and Ann his wife were of Martin Brandon's Parish, Charles City County, (later Prince George) and that land was on Chippoakes Creek where they formerly lived. On the back of a patent for 240 acres, granted to John Barker, Sept.9, 1682, was an assignment by John Barker and Grace his wife, for a consideration, of all right and title, dated July 4, 1685; wits.: Benj.Harrison, Richard Taylor. (D.B. 3,p.31.) This patent was located on the north side of Otterdam Swamp, adjoining Benj. Harrison and Mr. Jordan. (P.B. 7-189).

Jethro Barker patented 261 acres Oct.20, 1689 on the south side of Otterdam Swamp at Edward Gunnell's line; 165 acres April 1, 1717 on south west side of main Blackwater Swamp and 120 acres Sept. 5, 1723 on the south side of the same place. (P.B. 8 p.7;10 p.314;11,267.)

On July 6, 1685, Jethro sold to John Harris 120 acres of a patent located above Jethro's dwelling place. This was evidently one half of the patent he received from his brother John. Jethro Barker and Mary his wife, Sept. 1, 1690, sold 60 acres on the south side of Otterdam Swamp to William Killingsworth; wits.: Adam Heath, Richard Skogeny (?). (D.B.4-158). William Harvey of Southwark Parish, Surry, Jan.15, 1694, sold him 235 acres of a Patent of 335 acres granted Thomas Cotton April 16, 1683 and sold by him Nov.3, 1685, to said Harvey, on Otterdam Swamp, adjoining Jethro Barker's own land. Wits.: Benj. and Nathaniel Harrison. (BK.1694-1709-p.51)(P.B. 7-280) (Wm. Harvey made his will in 1704.)

Jethro[2] Barker held 240 acres in Surry in 1704 Quit Rents. On Sept. 9, 1744, he deeded to Jethro Barker, Jr., 270 acres on Otterdam Swamp at Harris Branch. (D.B.4,1741-46-p.246.) He also deeded to his son, John Barker, both of Albermarle Parish, Oct.19, 1747, a patent to said Jethro April 1, 1717. (D.B.5, p.141)

Jethro Barker made his will Jan.25, 1744; proven Mar.15,1747/48 as follows: to son JOHN BARKER plantation where he lives and all land ajdoining, also Ł 3; son JETHRO BARKER, Ł 3; son HENRY BARKER, Ł 3; daughters JANE FIELD and MARY ANDROSS (Andrew) each Ł 3; to hree grandaughters, children of son GEORGE, Agnes, Mary and Elizabeth, 150 acres on north side of Otterdam Swamp where GEORGE BARKER lived; to grandaughter Sarah, daughter of son JEHU BARKER. Ł 5; to JEHU BARKER and his

He died without issue as he gave his sister Mary Barker plantation he lived on; and bequests of money to nephews and nieces: John Henry Barker, Charles Barker, Nehemiah Barker, Susanna and Elizabeth Barker; sisters Elizabeth and Mary Barker to divide balance of estate. Wits.: Faddo Garrad, Daniel Ivey, Nath. Barker.
   2. Mary, with will dated Feb. 7, 1779, proven Nov. 18, 1779, predeceased her brother Drury for she gave him all her estate and Drury seems not to have changed his predated will. (W.B. "C"-347.)

VII. Henry[3] Barker, m. Catherine____. After Henry died, Catherine married Timothy Rives. (Henry was probably the third son of Jethro[2] Barker but is placed here for convenience because his is the line carried down). (See later).

Henry[3] Barker, son of Jethro[2], married Catherine, family name unknown. After Henry's death she married Timothy Rives Feb. 12, 1763. She died April 4, 1772. Henry died March 21, 1759 (A.P.R.)

Henry Barker patented 175 acres, Sept. 28, 1732, on south side of main Blackwater Swamp and on July 5, 1751, he patented 800 acres on south side of Blackwater Swamp. (P.B. 14-503; 29-464) On June 19, 1738, John[3] Barker deeded Henry[3] Barker, for love and affection that he bears for his brother Henry Barker, 100 acres on south side of Blackwater Swamp where he now lives, same granted to John Barker, April 1, 1717. He gave to son Benjamin 225 acres on south side of Blackwater Swamp; son James 200 acres in the same place; and son Nathaniel 200 acres. (D.B. "A"-46-47-49) These gifts and 175 acres given in his will to his son Henry accounts for his 800 acre patent obtained in 1751. His will was dated Dec. 4, 1758, and proven April 20, 1759. His legatees, to whom he gave negroes except HENRY who received 175 acres, were: wife to have use of plantation during her life or widowhood; sons BENJAMIN, CHARLES, JAMES, NATHANIEL; daus. A Benjamin Barker Jr., died Jan. 30, 1772, death reported by John Adkins. Adkins also reported the death of Katherine Hobbs, the wife of Frederick Hobbs on Jan. 30, 1772. Katherine Hobbs was probably the above Katherine Barker born Jan. 26, 1745. She and Frederick Hobbs had the following children A.P.R.:

1. William Hobbs, b. Feb. 24, 1764, Benj. and Mary Barker, Jos. Denton, Sponsors.

wife of John Judkins, was recorded by his wife, Sally, July 21, 1785. (Bk.F-424)

Charles[4] Barker, Sr., was born about 1741 in Surry County, Virginia, where his father and mother, Henry and Catharine Barker lived. Henry died in Surry County in 1759.

In 1761, Charles, Sr., and Ann Barker his wife, received a patent for 100 acres of land in Surry County. About 1766 he moved to Nottoway Parish (later to become Nottoway County, Amelia County, Virginia) and there bought 263 acres on Nov.24,1766. Four years later in 1770, he sold his Surry County land and in his deed described himself and wife as residents of Amelia.

Charles[4] Barker, Sr., may have served as a private in the 11th.Virginia Regiment, Col.A.Buford, commanding. A Charles Barker received his discharge from the Army at Hillsborough, Oct.25,1780. However, there were three slave holding Charles Barkers, heads of families in the Virginia Census of 1782-1784; one in Amelia, one in Cumberland, and one in Hanover.

The Revolutionary record of Charles Barker was as follows:

BOUNTY WARRENT

In 1781 and 1783, Charles, Sr., furnished rations to the Continental Armies and was allowed claims in Amelia County therefor. (Amelia, Court Booklet 1, -pp.21,61)

The personal property records of Amelia for 1782 showed him as having 9 slaves, including "George". This is interesting, because in the will of Henry Barker, Charles father, Henry bequeathed a slave named "George" to his son, Charles. Charles, Sr., continued on the personal property lists of Nottoway County until 1793.

Charles Barker, Jr., from 1793 to 1799 appears on the personal property lists in Nottoway County.

Charles, Jr., bought 770 acres in Halifax County in 1797 and 540 acres in 1800. The 1797 deed describes the grantee as "Charles Barker of Nottoway County, Virginia."

Charles Barker, Jr., married Barbara Walton August 18, 1791, in Mecklenburg County. If we assume that he was 21 when he married, then Charles, Jr., was born in 1771, after his father had moved to Amelia County.

Charles Meriwether of Albemarle County bought lands in Halifax County in 1801. He married Mary Daniel, formally Mary Walton, in Halifax County in 1808. Charles Barker, Jr., sold both tracts of his Halifax County land. In 1809 Charles Meriwether sold his land. They both moved to Kentucky in 1809.

The will of Charles Barker, Sr., is dated Halifax County, Jan. 8, 1801. He refers to a granddaughter, Jane Anderson, who at that time was a minor living with her uncle, Charles, Jr. Charles was his only known son.

Sometime prior to August 1791, in the Halifax County Virginia Court "Charles Barker, Jr., an infant by Charles Barker, Sr., his father as Plaintiff, brought suit for a debt due December 1790, against James Pauls, defendant. In March 1793, the case was continued and at this time Charles Barker, Jr., appeared in his own right and not as an infant.

Charles Barker, Jr., married first Barbara Ann Walton, the daughter of Barbara (Hester) and Edward Sims Walton, in Mecklenburg County, Virginia, in 1791. Barbara was born in Mecklenburg County, in 1772 and died at "Fairfields", Montgomery County, Tennessee in 1821. His second wife, whom he married in 1824, was born at Hopkinsville, Christian County, Kentucky.

When Charles Barker and his friend and brother-in-law, Dr. Charles Meriwether reached Kentucky in 1809 they settled on a strata of rich loam so far south in Kentucky that later, when the Federal Government did survey the line between Kentucky and Tennessee much of their land fell in Montgomery County, Tenn; also the Barker's home "Fairfield". This survey is noted in the Day Book of "Woodstock" farm rather as an interruption to the farm work than as an historical event; in several instances through the first years the inconvenience of the rock piled markers in the big rolling fields is noted.

BRANCH of ISLE of WIGHT and NORTH CAROLINA

The first one of this family in Isle of Wight was George Branch who with James Sampson witnessed a power of attorney in April 1664 (17C-504). On June 9, 1666, George Hardy deeded Francis England 100 acres where George Branch formerly lived called "Shadow Rock". (Id,545). John Oliver, July 2nd, 1650, patented 300 acres on the Blackwater near Lower Chippokes Creek. On Jan.5,1666, John Collins, who had married Eleanor, dau. of John Oliver, with her consent sold George Branch ½ of the above patent. John Wakefield who married the youngest dau. of John Oliver, sold him the other 150 acres (Id.541). George Branch evidently lived on the above land for on Jan.9, 1679, Thomas Carter sold 56 acres to John Parsons on the main Blackwater "at George Branch's" Id.586).

George Branch married about 1652 Ann England, daughter of Captain Francis England. Captain Francis England was born in England in 1609 and came to Virginia when he was very young for "ffrancis England of the age of twenty years or there abouts", testified in a case concerning one Thomas Hall, 25 March 1629 at a court held in Jas.City" (M.C.G.C. p.194). On June 20, 1642, Francis England received a patent of 746 acres of land in Isle of Wight County. (17 Cent. p.669) On Sept.26,1668 Gov.William Berkeley granted the commission of captain to Francis England. However, it appears that the duties of this commission were not made clear to him for this record is found: "Wm.Berkeley, having granted a commission to Capt.Francis England for the command of a company of Foot, declares he is not to meddle or have anything to do with the other companies belonging to the parish,etc... 26 Sept.1668.(Id.p.553). Captain Francis England was a strong supporter of Gov.Berkeley in Bacon's Rebellion, and was one of those who signed the reply to the Grievances of His Majesty's "Poor but Loyal Subjects" in 1677. (Id.p.161) During Bacon's Rebellion Colonel William Groves, one of Bacon's colonels, who had been taken prisoner, on Dec.25,1676 ran from his guard. Thirty or forty men under Capt.Consent were sent after him; they found him and three rebel companions at Capt. Francis England's house which they had captured. There Capt.Consent shot the colonel dead and brought away his horse" and the three rebels and Capt.Francis England back to his ship the "Young Prince"(Id.p.669)

Captain Francis England was twice married. His first wife was Sarah____, whom he married shortly after her coming to Virginia. In 1642 he received a patent for her transportation.(Id.p. 669) She died prior to 1664 and Capt.England married Joyce, daughter of the wife of Robert Flake, one of the largest landowners in Isle of Wight. Capt.England in his will dated May 13, 1677, probated June 9, 1677, gave to his dau. Ann Branch, wife of George

Generation 10
Joel Barker (b. c 1669, d. c 1748)

JOEL BARKER II (GENERATION 9) SON OF JOEL BARKER I (GENERATION 10)

Joel Barker I never made a Will and he never deeded any land to a son or daughter. However, some of the children of Joel Barker I can be determined by the process of elimination.

By using deeds and wills to follow the disposition of land from one generation to the next for John and Jethro Barker I have not been able to attach Joel II & wife Sarah, John & wife Elizabeth, and William & wife Priscilla as children of John or Jethro Barker. The fact that Joel II & John Barker were listed in the Albemarle Parish Register in Sussex County adds additional proof. John Barker migrated to Iredell Co., NC where he died in 1808. His son Howell died 1843 in Iredell Co., NC and one of his sons was named Joel. Joel Barker II migrated to Wake Co., NC (see Generation 9) where he died in 1779. William Barker migrated to Orange Co., NC where he died intestate in 1760. Priscilla Barker was administrator of his estate. Some of the children of William & Priscilla settled in Wake, NC., as did Priscilla after her husbands, William Barker and Samuel Lettman, died in Orange Co., NC.

BIRTH: Abt 1665
Based on the fact that he was a tithable in 1685, and would have to be 16 yrs. old to be a tithable. Therefore, he could have been born as late 1669.

MARRIAGE:
Abt 1693
Based on age of birth and because he bought land from his brother Jethro in 1693.

NAME OF WIFE:
Surry Deeds, Wills, etc., Bk 5, 1694-1709, 6 May 1706...Joel Barker & wf. Wit; William Edmunds and Francis Clements. Rec'd 6 May 1711, Surry Co. Deed Bk 5, p.370.
Note: This 100 acres of land was bought from brother, Jethro, in 1693. The above deed was witnessed by William Edmunds whose daughter, Sarah, married Joel Barker after 1730.

Total land sold 470 acres

Note: Joel Barker I lived on the South side of the Blackwater Swamp at the Wildcatt Branch in Albemarle Parish in that part of Surry Co. that became Sussex Co. in 1754. He lived on the same land from 1711-1748 when he sold his land to Simon Stacy and Thomas Tomlinson. Joel would have been about the age of 76-80 years in 1748. The above deeds account for all of the land of Joel Barker, and since his wife was not mentioned in the 1748 deeds she may have already passed. He probably died soon thereafter. No further records for him are found.

Nashville for West (now Middle) Tennessee. Each office was supervised by a register, who was qualified by law to issue land grants. Complicating an already overloaded system, the state legislature established a Board of Commissioners for East and West Tennessee in 1807, whose members also could evaluate land claims and issue certificates for land grants. For years, the two registers and the commissioners acted jointly to issue warrants or certificates for the state's public lands.

For an individual to acquire public land legally by gaining a title, he first had to secure a warrant or certificate from a land register or land commissioner for that specific acreage. Then he had to locate his land, have it entered upon an entrybook kept by an official entry-taker, who could record this entry so that it might then be laid out by an official surveyor. This process completed, the claimant then submitted survey and plot to the secretary of state. The secretary of state attached a permanent number to the land grant.This prevented duplications of numbers and overlapping of some land claims.

By 1838 North Carolinians had claimed some 8,500,000 acres out of approximately 24 million acres originally allotted to them in Middle and West Tennessee. For many years settlers had "squatted" on tracts of land, usually the less desirable. These people generally were allowed to purchase their land reasonably by what was known as "squatters' rights" or, more properly, occupant right claims.

Acting in the interest of the United States, the governments of Tennessee and North Carolina and Commissioners Andrew Jackson and Isaac Shelby made a treaty of cession with the Chickasaws for all their lands in West Tennessee and western Kentucky. Naturally, this followed the authorization by Congress in April of 1818 for Tennessee, rather than North Carolina, to "issue grants and perfect titles to lands south and west of the Congressional Line in settlement of these claims." As explained, the whites theoretically claimed West Tennessee but actually had to gain title to this region by means of purchase from the traditional Indian owners, the Chickasaws.

1812 Tax List

This 1812 List of Free Taxable Inhabitants was transcribed David Hooper. The early Tennessee Tax lists are on file with the Tennessee State Archives and Library. As with any research it is always advisable to check the original records, if possible.

This listing is alphabetized for convenience and in some cases obvious mispelled names were changed by David. He compared the names against the 1820 Census. Any other errors found from the original listing, transcription or HTML coding of this list are not intentional. Our goal is to help you with your research!

The early hundreds in Kent County, Delaware were Duck Creek, Little Creek, St. Jones, Murderkill and Mispillion. Mispillion was located in the southernmost part of the county and derived its name from the Mispillion River. The land in Mispillion Hundred was low, level, sandy, and fertile, with wide stretches of marshes, beautiful beaches, excellent woods, and the climate was generally mild.

Richard Underwood's property in Kent County, Delaware consisted of "Underwood's Forrest," "Underwood's Plain," "Underwood's Addition," and "Manlove's[8] Chance."

On February 28, 1738, Richard Underwood of Kent County took title to 195 acres of land at Marshy Hope, called Underwood's Forrest. This land adjoined that of John Clark. Eleven and one-half acres of this land were set aside for roads.[9] Marshy Hope Creek is located in the southwest corner of present day Kent County, Delaware and flows through a tip of Sussex County before continuing into Dorchester County, Maryland. However, the boundary between Maryland and Delaware at this point was disputed for years and it is probable that the Marrett land on Marshy Hope Creek in Dorchester County, Maryland and the Underwood land in Delaware on Marshy Hope Creek were quite close to each other.

In 1739 Richard added 226 acres, called "Underwood's Plains." This piece was "adjacent his dwelling plantation" and adjoined the land of John McNatt.[10]

In 1740 he purchased "Manlove's Chance," 210 acres from Manlove's daughters.[11]

In 1746 in June he added "Underwood's Addition," 108 acres "adjacent his dwelling plantation," and adjoining also the land of John McKenny and that of John McNatt.[12]

Richard was the original owner of the three tracts bearing his name, and the land was referred to by its name in subsequent deeds. We also know from the placenames that he had fields to raise tobacco, grain, vegetables, and fruit trees; pastures for his cattle, and wooded areas which furnished building materials.

Neither Richard or Mary could read or write. Their wills are signed with a "mark." Richard obviously was not wealthy for he put his plantation together a little at a time over a period of years. However, by the time Richard and Mary died, their grandchildren were educated, or at least they could read and write, and Richard and his two sons had owned over a thousand acres of rich land.

Richard Underwood wrote his will July 27, 1757. To his wife, Mary, he left the use of the plantation for her lifetime, along with all household goods, stock, and slaves.

To his grandsons, Richard and Joshua Underwood, sons of his deceased son Joshua, he left the land where their father, Joshua, had lived during his lifetime, and also the land where Edward Morice,[13] Richard's son-in-law, dwelled. This land was to be divided equally between the two boys when they came to lawful age, and grandson, Richard, was to have first choice. If either died before coming of age, the other was to inherit all the land.

Richard's grandsons, Abraham and Joshua, at that time two and five years old, were to have the remainder of the land and the improvements after the death of Richard's wife, Mary, and his son, Richard. Joshua was to have first choice. If either boy died before reaching lawful age, then the other would inherit.

To his son, Richard, Richard, Sr. left the use of the plantation during his lifetime and one chest of drawers and his wearing apparel. Richard was instructed to care for his mother, Mary.

To his daughters, Mary McNatt, wife of William McNatt,[14] and Miram Morice, wife of Edward Morice, he left five shillings each.

His wife, Mary, was made executor of the estate. The witnesses of his will were Thomas Clark, Sarah Clark, and Benjamin Clark.[15] The will was probated in court in May 1758 in Kent County, Delaware.[16]

According to Richard Underwood's will, his son, Joshua and wife, Sarah, and their two sons, Richard and Joshua, lived on part of his land. Joshua, however, owned 202½ acres of land, adjoining the land of Alexander Fleming,[17] in the Forrest of Mispillion Hundred, which he had acquired October 16, 1749.[18] Sarah, Joshua's wife, filed papers of administration of his estate, on November 28, 1752.[19] Apparently, Thomas Clark was made guardian of these children, for in 1765, on May 29, Sarah, Benjamin and John Clark filed for guardianship of Richard Underwood, minor, in place of Thomas Clark, who had been his guardian and had died in 1763.[20] It may be assumed that perhaps his brother, Joshua, had already become of age at this time.

This Joshua (son of Joshua, grandson of Richard), along with his wife Mary, filed a deed in Kent County on March 10, 1775 selling the 202½ acres of land to John Cook.[21] The deed says the land was called Underwood's Forrest, and that the original survey had been made in 1731. It would seem then, that his father Joshua's acquisition of it in 1749 had perhaps been a deed from his father, Richard. The land sold for 116 pounds. The deed was signed in the presence of John Clark and Richard McNatt.[22]

In the spring of 1787, Joshua, son of Joshua, and his second wife, Elizabeth, in joint ownership with Samuel Robesson, all of Kent County, Delaware, sold a tract of land in the forest of Murderkill Hundred to Daniel Mifflin.[23] It is not known, at this time, if this Joshua removed elsewhere, but he was not there in 1790.

Richard Underwood (Jr.) lived and died in Kent County, Delaware. He married Priscilla, and they were parents of three sons, Abraham, born September 3, 1752; Joshua Underwood, born February 10, 1755; and John, born December 13, 1757.[24] John was born after his grandfather's death, but Joshua and Abraham were obviously their grandfather's favorites, for they inherited the bulk of his estate, although he had a number of grandchildren.

After his father's death, Richard (Jr.) looked after his mother and the plantation. On June 1, 1758, he bought 134¼ acres of land adjoining his father's.[25] From the plat we learn the names of some of the Underwood neighbors: Tom Spencer,[26] Alexander Scott,[27] William McNatt, Samuel Spencer, W. Harper,[28] Moses Jones[29] and John McKenny.[30]

Richard, Jr. died about 1772. He was already deceased when his mother's will was probated August 13, 1772. His wife, Priscilla, received her letters of administration of his estate on February 25, 1773.[31]

After their father's death, Abraham and Joshua, on February 25, 1772, age 20 and 18, appeared in court to petition that Peter Callaway[32] be appointed their guardian. The court so ordered and named John Clark as security at the amount of five hundred dollars. During this same session, the court appointed Lodok Cropper, Esq., John Harrington and Daniel Smith to make an evaluation of the rents, profits and tenements of the boys' land which they had inherited from their grandfather.

Although Mary Underwood, widow of Richard Underwood (Sr.) wrote her will October 13, 1762, she lived for many more years. Her will was filed for probate August 13, 1772. She named as her heirs her sons: John Marrett, Joseph Marrett, John Underwood, Richard Underwood, Grandsons: Joseph Marrett[33] (son of her deceased son, Zachariah Marrett), Joshua and Abraham Underwood (sons of Richard, Jr.). This is the first reference to son John Underwood. He was not mentioned in his father's will. Executors for Mary's estate were to be her son, Richard, and friend, Thomas Clark. Her witnesses were Sarah Clark, Ann McNatt (Brown), and Ruth Clark. When Mary Underwood's will was filed for probate the court appointed Joseph Marrett as executor, because both Richard Underwood (Jr.) and Thomas Clark were deceased.

In her will Mary Underwood bequeathed to her grandson, Joshua Underwood, her "bed and furniture," "one pewter dish small" and "one small trunk." To Abraham Underwood she gave "one large iron pot" and "two pewter dishes."[34]

When the colonies declared their independence from England in 1776, Abraham Underwood was 23 and Joshua was 21. They were already land owners and responsible for their inherited plantation. Joshua had recently married and his first child, a son, was born about this time. It was a difficult, but exciting time in which to live. Joshua was sympathetic to the rebel cause. His National Number for service in the Revolutionary War is 171828. This means all his female descendants are eligible to become members of the Daughters of the American Revolution and his male descendants are eligible for the Sons of The Revolution. Although we might like to believe that all our early patriotic ancestors of this time were ardent fighters, musket in hand hot in pursuit of the British, such was not the case. It was both legally and socially acceptable to hire or furnish a substitute to go to war and fight in one's place. That is what Joshua Underwood did.

There is a family tradition that perhaps Joshua had two wives, and this seems plausible. Joshua's first child was born circa 1777. His second child was a girl. His third child was not born until 1785. So the family tradition that the first two children were half brother and sister to the rest seems very probable.

On the 13th day of May, 1776, Abraham Underwood, Yoeman, and Elizabeth, his wife, signed a deed for the division of the land left to him and to Joshua by their grandfather.[35] On the 14th day of May, 1776, Joshua Underwood, Carpenter, signed a deed of the division.[36] This deed indicates that Joshua was not mar-

Are you still researching the McNatt name? If so, I might can help. Like everyone else, I've combed records for a Richard McNatt and never found anything. Then I took a DNA test. I descend from Richard so I started with the basic Y chromosome test. The results were R1b-L21. L21 puts the genetic footprint in Ireland and around Galloway. I will have the rest of the markers evaluated later this year to get as detailed a picture as possible. After those results came in though, I shifted my research from the Highlands and began looking more towards Galloway. Based on research that I can provide, I found that there were quite a few MacNauchts in Galloway. In fact, a man named James C. McKnight discovered eight generations of our ancestors living in seven different parishes in the Scottish Lowlands. All but those found in a place called Kirkconnel are in present day Ayrshire. This is an area that only extends as far south as Dalmellington, as far north and west as Kilwining, and as far east as Kirconnel. The other four parishes were: Ayr, Old Cumnock, New Cumnock, and Maybole. On the subject of Iverness. My grandfather used to tell me that story when I was young, and I worked for years to prove it right. Evidently there are more than a few of us who have been led to believe this. Because of the research I read, I now hold the Inverness tradition to be false. In the vicinity of the places I listed above is a town known as Inveraray. We know the region around Inveraray (in the Shire of Argyll) to be McNaughton country. Inveraray is also about five miles from the old MacNaughton castle at Dunderave. It is also close to Fraoch Eilean and Strathtay in Perthshire where the MacNaughtons were said to have lived for ages. I am now somewhat confident of two things: 1. Richard probably left from Inveraray and 2. the tradition of Inverness may have been the legacy of an older oral tradition (going back multiple generations) that captured McN's leaving Inverness for Inveraray. A few more things: 1. Not all writers agree that we are a branch of the MacNaughton family. All agree that if we are, the split occurred very early in history. 2. The name: you've probably read all the stuff about Nectan and the Picts. Duncan McNaughton (a researcher) cautions that we can't be sure where our name originates. The name was in use in one form or another in England, Ireland, and Scotland and probably because it might have been used by some of the earliest Celtic tribes in the first millennium BC. Interestingly, there is an early tribe or clan of O'Nechtans who settled in western Ireland. Anyways, since our knowledge of Pictish vocabulary is very, very limited, I've struggled for years with the idea that we may not really have any real proof of Pict origins. 3. Henry Harrison's "Surnames of the United Kingdom" says this about our name: MacNaughton and McNaught are of common Celtic origin and derive from big, Necht, or Neachd, and Nechtan. The difference is that MacNaughton means son of the little pledge and McNaught means son of the pledge. Our line appears to have never used the suffix and probably means, again, we belong to the Galloway segment of the clan who were known to use no -an suffix. 4. Some Scottish families began retaining their surnames after the last half of the 11th century under King Malcolm Canmore. He asked that families pass along whatever name they then used rather than to assign them patronymically. Supposedly, the clan's use of the surname McNaughton was one of the oldest in the Highlands, being retained long before the 18th cent. And, supposedly, one of the earliest known McKnaughts in Aye retained the name in the early 17th century. 5. However you spell our last name - McNitt, McNutt, McNatt, McKnight, etc., remember this... a Highland surname of today reflects the idiosyncrasies of a session clerk transcribing Gaelic into English, the personal preference of some ancestor, or the customary pronunciation of a particular area. I've got to tap out now. If you want more information, contact me at dlmcnatt@me.com. Last thing: if we are indeed Galwegians (folk from Galloway), we're in good company. Robert the Bruce was from the area as well.

generations after each other, such as James Hiatt, James Anderson Hiatt, Etc. and followed families from East Coast to Kansas and some south together following the Battle of Guilford Court House and some into SC. The clues of one family helps with the other. I will send some extensive notes, not sure what it all is now, in a follow up so this is not so cumbersome, if it helps let me know and I can send anything else I have if it is of interest to anyone. Larry, all these stories (at least this one has references to the state/county record books/pages to verify the information) are interesting, but for tracing ydna are not as important as the simple Anderson-line lineage charts back in time to the objective - locating the common ancestor of all. If you have more than 3 non-matching ydna markers, it is probably impossible to find the common ancestor within U.S. Colonial history, but must either give up or search records across the 'pond'. I, myself, have concentrated on getting exact, correct lineage data back to my immigrant from Scotland/Ireland in 1730s. That is what is most important to me - accuracy of the exact line.
You can start by just comparing your nearest ydna matches' proved family line with yours. In your case, perhaps that person is Joe (results at Ancestry). He has very good proof documentation back to his John b.ca.1715?-d.1779 GA. If you do not have your line proved back as far as he does, just concentrate on working with him to find your common ancestor, and forget about those who are not close matches for the time being.Allen can do the same with the documentation of Benjamine, whatever it is, who is his closest ydna match (I think, but need the markers).Mary Alice - I do lineage proof document work for a heritage organization and know from experience it can be done!!! Have to do the research tho, not just following old stories produced by someone else._____PeoplePC OnlineA better way to Internethttp://www.peoplepc.com

Descendants of Thomas Anderson

Generation No. 1

1. THOMAS1 ANDERSON died 1734 in Kent Co., DE. He married ELIZABETH. She died in Kent Co., DE.

Notes for THOMAS ANDERSON:
Thomas Anderson purchased from Thomas Berry, Nov 1730, 150 acres called "Burberry's Lott" in Murderkill Hundered, Kent Co., DE and died around 1734-1738. His "will" names James, Bartholemew, John, and his wife Elizabeth, and three daughters unnamed. -Opal Louisin

Thomas is the earliest progenitor of this Anderson family found so far.
The first reference found to date was in 1730, when he bought 150 acres of a 600 acre tract called Burberry's Lott in Murderkill Hundred, Kent Co.DE.

All children except James Sr. were minors when Thomas died. Elizabeth married Robert Catlin who raised the children and petitioned the court to dispose of the estate for the support of the children. James Sr. mother was probably NOT Elizabeth.

Oral history states that Thomas was a descendent of an Ulster Scot family (a lowlander Loyalist protestant Scot) who was part of a group sent in from Scotland by King James in the early 1600's to colonize Ulster (Northern Ireland). This Scottish heritage is supported by the inventory of Mathias Anderson (great grandson) recorded in White Co. TN, which included a book of "Scots Lessons".

A possibility that Thomas and/or his son James Sr. may have been Quakers.

Nathan ROSE

Nathan and Rhoda moved from Indiana to Missouri. Little is known of them.

Rhoda SHIELDS

The three younger children were Rhonda born in 1802 and married Nathan Rose who was associated with John Lindsey in 1829, in building the dam and corn cracker mill for the government, near Rochester, Ind, to provide food for the Pottawatomie Indians.
The several children of the Rose's were: Ezekiel, Elizabeth, James, Margaret Ann and Cyrus. There may have been more, but as far we have been unable to find any of their descendants. They came to Missouri in the early 50's or before.

James BROOKS

RE: Will of JAMES BROOKS

Evidently James Brooks made a will about 1713 which must have been lost or misfiled because the statement appearing in Kent Co., Del. file F-1-29 seems to show some controversy about the terms of the will on 26 June 1727. Therefore, as to when James Brooks died and who was his wife I do not know at this time.

I think Mary Brooks mentioned as his daughter was later married to Joshua Brown and their daughter was Elizabeth who married James Anderson,
I. Mary Brown, widow of Joshua Brown, received her 1/3 in the settlement of Joshua's estate in either 1764 or final disposition August 1773. By 1733 there were evidently four children born to Joshua and Elizabeth Brown because Benjamin Brooks, brother of Mary Brooks mentioned herein left some estate to Joshuaway Brown's four children.

Because of this will of Benjamin Brooks I strongly believe the parents of Elizabeth Brown were Joshua and Mary (Brooks) Brown.

This was nearly impossible to read. It must have been in somewhat print in teh index to wills that I had from the National Gen. Soc. Library or I would not have known about the Brooks family, to make this connection with the Brown family.

Possibly more proof of Mary Brooks the mother of Elizabeth (Brooks) Brown could be obtained if one were to find the wills of the other children of James Brooks, i.e. Arthur, Elinor, James Jr., John and Moses Brooks. (The last three probably being the youngest children or possibly the oldest because they were to get only five shillings.)

James Brooks, F1-29, Kent Co., Del. Will dated 26 June 1727 in Kent Co., Del.

Because Benjamin, the son, left something to Joshua Brown's 4 children, and Joshua Brown's wife was Mary, I assume she was this Mary Brooks. (Opal Lousin)

Richard STOCKTON

Richard, like his father, obtained a grant of 400 acres of land on July 22, 1745 and later other grants. His wife name was either Anne or Agnes. They had five sons and eight daughters, as listed herein. Nancy m. Robert Shields in 1761.

Richard may have been born in Ireland before the family came to America.

He had to be born by 1710 since he had a daughter, Nancy, married in 1761, she being a younger child of 13 children. Allowing Nancy to be about 18 at marriage, she would have been born about 1743. Richard then, is assumed to have been older, and married, at the time he received his grant of 400 acres in 1745. If the children are given even in approximate order of birth, Nancy is listed as the last female child. Allowing for approximately one and a half years between births and even allowing Nancy to have been about the 8th child instead of the 13th, that accounts for a minimum of 12 years, reasonably a few more. So Richard would have been married no sooner than about 1730, and assigning a reasonable age of about 20 years, that would make him born no later than about 1710. If Nancy was the youngest of the 13 and allowing a more reasonable spacing of at least 2 years, that would have made Richard m. about 1715 and born about 1695, than most certainly in Ireland.

One of the daughters married a McMahan and the families moved with the Shields and sister Nancy, to Tennessee and setteled nearby.

From SHIELD HISTORY, 1980, pg 54 notes:

On the 23rd of July 1745, Richard Stockton, Nancy's father, obtained a grand of 400 acres in Albemarle Co., VA, close to his father's grant. He later purchased other property as noted in the Deeds Registry of Albemarle Co., VA.

The name of the wife of Richard is known only by Agnes. Records indicate he was the father of 13 children

FOREWORD

Surry County was formed in 1652 from a part of James City County, one of the original shires of 1634, on the south side of the James River and extended from the river to the North Carolina border. Brunswick County was formed from Surry County in 1723 and Sussex County was formed from it in 1753-1754. Due to the loss of many of the court records of Dinwiddie County, Charles City County and Prince George County, the records of Surry County have taken on even greater importance since there was much movement in these early years over county lines, the James River and the North Carolina border.

The Estate Accounts are included to provide a record of those usually hard-to-find persons who did not buy or sell land or have wills and their administrators along with the large number of persons of all social levels who made purchases at estate sales. The extensive INDEX is useful in that you will find the names of all individuals mentioned in this book which includes the names of adjoining neighbors to the lands being sold along with water courses, bridges, etc. and other counties in both Virginia and North Carolina.

There is no General Index to deeds for Surry County before the year 1848 and some of the individual books have lost their first pages where the index for that book would have been found. Fortunately, the original books were not destroyed but some of them have suffered greatly and are very difficult to read. To provide continuity, a companion volume to this book of deeds is available with the title, SURRY COUNTY, VIRGINIA DEEDS 1684 - 1733 and OTHER COURT PAPERS by William Lindsay Hopkins.

Since the spelling of proper names was not uniform at this early time and there is always the possibility that the compiler may have missed something in the reading, it is advisable for the reader to look at a copy of the original deed and to read it for himself.

(As described in more detail below, John Barker of Indian Fields was probably the son of another John Barker, some of the information above may pertain to this individual. If this earlier John is the same person as Capt John Barker of Ratcliffe, then the remainder of the information is applicable.)

John Barker of Indian Fields
B. ca 1630. Died between 10 Aug. 1678 & 4 April 1679 in Charles City VA (Barker/Harrison Deed; Jethro Barker Guardianship Petition 4 Apr. 1679 Charles City Co. Order Book 1676-79 page 376, abstracted in Ayers. {Jethro Barker listed as an orphan with his new guardian being a male; if Jethro 's father were alive he would not have had a male guardian appointed him.}
M. by ca 1650 Letitia
B. unknown
D. by Sept 2 1673 in Surry Co. VA.

[Sr/Jr. Deed {establishes that Ann was stepmother of John of Indian Fields' eldest son John. Jethroe Barker guardianship Petition {estalishes that Ann was also Jethro's stepmother}; Ann . Deed {states Ann married to George Marshell on March 9 1672/3, when he made his will; also establishes that she married to Barker as of the deed's making}

These documents establish that Ann was stepmother to John of Indian Fields two older sons,John and Jethro. As explained below, the youngest son Joel probably turned 21 around January of 1690, which places his birth ca 1669. Thus since Ann married John of INdian Fields between 9 March 1672/3 and Sept 1673, she was the stepmother to all his children. Thus, their mother, weather she be Letitia or someone else, had died by the latter date John Barker (JR) Deeds involving (John JR was proberly of age when he was party to these deeds).

These documents establish that Ann was stepmother to John of Indian Fields two older sons,John and Jethro. As explained below, the youngest son Joel proberly turned 21 around January of 1690, which places his birth ca 1669. BODDIE, Vol. XIX
Pg. 52-55. Genealogy of Robert Harrison of Prince George County, VA. Seven Harrisons of English origin but of unknown American kinship were in early Col. Va, others were in Md and Pennsylvania. Benjamin Harrison, immigrant founder of the illustrious family which produced a signer of the Declaration of independence and two Presidents of U. S. was in Surry co., Virginia, prior to 1653, when he was Clerk of the Crown Council in Jamestown. Geo. Harrison pat. 200 acres in James City County in 1625, but there is no further record of him. James and Richard Harrison were in York Co. Cuthbert Harrison was in Culpepper and later Brunswick Counties; Thomas Harrison was in Surry; Robert in Prince George. John, Richard and Robert were cleared for sailing from England to Virginia in 1635. This Robert Harrison is persumed to have been the immigrant founder of the Harrison family with whom this compilation is concerned, and in which the name Robert has been repeated through many generations down to Dr. Robert Harrison (1805 - 1882) of "Mount Pleasant," Prince George Co. . This goes on with the many Harrisons.
William Barker, mariner, patented 600 acres in Charles City County, 29 Aug 1637, "being a point of land called Bicars which was formerly bounded etc...At a Court holden at Westopher, Apr. 3, 1647, Charles City county: Memorandum that Wm. Barker agrees that James Warradine shall hold and enjoy all the land at Bicars or Bycars, being 600 acres of land or thereabouts. Warradine paying 2,000 lbs.of good and well-conditioned leaf tobacco on 10th Oct, and 2,000 lbs. Of like tobbo on 10th day of Nov, which shall be in the year of our Lord 1646. (this land eventually became the property of the Harrisons).
Vol. V. Family of Harrison - Benjamin Harrison
Pg. 73. Philip Limbry "of Virginia" was devised 20 L in will of Lawrence Brinley of London, 8-10-1662. Also mentioned in will was a Mary Libry. Philip Limbry came to Va abt 1660 and conducted a mercantile business in Charles City with one John Rouse. Philip Limbry married Elizabeth, dau of Wm. Barker of "Flower dew Hundred" and had by her two children, John and Elizabeth. Elizabeth Barker died and her husband m. (2) Jane, surname unknown. By 1667, Philip Limbry was dead and his widow married Elias Osborne. Of the children of Philip Limbry, only Elizabeth survived. She m. a Wilkins and left many descendants.

Further information on Dorrell Young and wife Ann Read causes more confusion. This Ann is daughter of Peter Read, and we thought full sister to Henry Read. We know that Ann Read Young is the sister of Henry because of the court record where he is trying to regain the estate of Ann's children from the widow of Francis Poythress and her husband Charles Bartholemew. The following records indicate that Ann Read was born earlier than now thought and may be a child of Peter Read's by his first marriage. We know that Henry Read was probably born ca 1673 in order to be 21 and old enough to sue in court in 1694.

Virginia Colonial Absttracts by Beverly Fleet:

3 Jun 1663
"ffrancis trehan and Elizabeth his wife form'ly the wife of Peter Moyle do in open Co'rt consent to the binding of there sonne Peter Moyle as an apprentice to Dorrell Young for nine yeares to learne his trade." Young to "teach him to reade and write competently", etc.

3 June 1673 (This record made about the time of our now amended date of birth for Henry Read. Ann Read Young might have been age 16 or so at time of marriage but that would put her date of birth at 1657, even earlier if she and Dorrell were married in 1671 when he acquired the land from Cesar Walpole)
Entry states that a bargain of sale is endorsed on the back of a deed from Cesar Walpole to Dorrell Young recorded 3 Aug 1671. That Dorrill Young and Annes his wife assign to Richd Dodd, for 4000 lb tobo, all land within mentioned, sold by Cesar Walpole and Elizabeth his wife to sd Young. Dated 3 June 1673. Signed Dorrill Young, Annes X Young. Wit: John Cogan, John Drayton. Dorrill Young and Annes his wife appear in Court, on the date above and surrender the land in the deed to Richard Dodd. James Minge, Cl Cur.

Dorrell Young died in 1677 and Ann died about 1685, still young enough to have underage age children. Mark Freeman says that her daughter Joan, age 15, chose Henry Harmon as her guardian. Even if she were 15 years of age when daughter Joan born, date of birth would be abt 1655. I haven't found this record for Joan, but will look for it next library visit.

Another John Barker was roaming the same area as our John Barker:
Our John Barker lived on Upper Chippoakes Creek. This other John Barker lived on the Flowerdew Hundred (fflourd hundred" and appears to be a little older than our John Barker. This could account for the 1657 land grant being made to John Barker, Jr. to distinguish the two men.)
Virginia Colonial Abstracts, Vol 12 Charles City County Court Orders 1661-1664 by Beverly Fleet:
24 Nov 1662. John Barker of "fflourd hundred" to Mr Tho: Drew, of the same plantation, merchant, 30000 lb of tobacco, to guarantee him :from all trouble charge Mainteynance or Mainteyning xx may arise of Hannah Pett daughter to my wife, and for w'ch keeping of her, I John Barker do hereby acknowledge to have rec'd of my father in Law Mr Tho: Drew full satisfaccon for her Mainteynance".

Charles City County, Virginia Order Book 1676-1679 by Margaret MacNeil Ayres:
7 Nov 1677. Where as at the death of Jno Barker of Flowerdew hundred all the tract of land known as Flowerdew hundred did descent to Sarah then the wife of Richard Taylor, dec'd, and now the wife of Robt. Lucy, and to Elizabeth the wife of Phillip Lymbry, sister and co-heir with the sd. Jno Barker who since sd. Barker's decease have held the land in co-partner-ship at inconvenience to themselves and detriment to the land. Now the sd. Lucy & wife and the sd. Lymbry & wife do wish the land divided and have appealed to the court by mutual consent. Coll. Robt. Winn & Lt. Coll. Geo. Jordan are empowered by court order dated 3 Apr. 1677, to do so. Jas. Minge, surveyor, has been instructed to lay out the bounds dividing sd. Flowerdew hundred into two equal parts, the north land bordering the James River and Macock's land belonging to Dorothy, wife of Hubbert Farrel; the other being a line of stakes parting the sd. Flowerdew hundred in two parts. The south part is bordered by the east side of James River by Flowerdew hundred Creek, by Macock's and by the above line of stakes. A plan was drawn of the two halves, these 2 plans framed, put into a hat, a child drew them out and gave one showing the north part to the sd. Robt. Lucy & Sarah his wife, and the south part to Phillip Limbry and Elizabeth, his wife, the parties having agreed to abide by the division & the drawing.

History of Sussex County, Virginia

Where We Came From
A Synopsis Of The History Of Sussex County
By Gary M. Williams, Sussex County Clerk of the Circuit Court

Sussex County was created in 1754 by an act of the General Assembly of Virginia, being formed from Surry County. It came by its name quite naturally in that it was named for the English shire of Sussex, which is south of the shire of Surrey on the Thames from London, just as Virginia's Sussex is south of Surry on the James River.

The county leads the state today in lumber production, and much of its 496 square miles is wooded. Pork, peanuts and cotton follow as mainstays of the county's economical well being. In the beginning tobacco was a chief staple, with hogshead rolled from the distant plantations here by oxen to the wharves on the James River in Surry. By the end of the antebellum period Sussex was one of the three top cotton producing counties in Virginia, and in recent years it has emerged again as an important cotton producer. The first commercial crop of peanuts in the United States were reputedly grown here in Sussex in 1842 by Dr. Matthew Harris (1798-1860) on his plantation between what is now Waverly and Wakefield. Peanuts were the salvation of Sussex's recovery from the devastation of the Civil War, for during the postwar period the crop really gained its widespread commercial demand. The first factory in America for cleaning, grading and marketing peanuts was built in Waverly in 1880 and burned in the 1930s. The production of hogs has been a mainstay since colonial times.

The early years of the county saw considerable breeding of thoroughbred horses from retired race horses imported from England. Until the rise of Kentucky, Sussex was fertile ground for producing fine horses. Indeed, the great stud horse Shark, who was the "greatest sire in America," died on the plantation of Thomas Hunt in Sussex in 1795. The last significant breeder of blooded horses was Benjamin Wyche, who died in 1817.

Sussex played an active role in the achievement of American liberty. Colonel David Mason, who represented Sussex for years in the Virginia House of Burgesses in Williamsburg, was a member of the committee that drafted Virginia's first state constitution in 1776, which incorporated the immortal Virginia Declaration of Rights. Colonel Augustine Claiborne, the first county court clerk, resigned his position in order to be "a strenuous supporter of the Revolution". He aided in the clothing of troops for the Continental Army and in providing homes for distressed Norfolk citizens burned out by Lord Dunmore. During the last year of the war, in 1781, Lord Cornwallis, coming up from the Carolinas into Virginia by way of the old Halifax Road that skirted the western portion of the county, met the turncoat Benedict Arnold, British commander of Petersburg, on the banks of the Nottoway River near modern Stony Creek. The local parish parson, the Reverend William Andrews, who had opened meeting of the local revolutionaries with prayer, joined the British redcoats as they moved through Sussex. He became chaplain of the British garrison at Yorktown and left with the British army after the surrender.

William Charles Cole Claiborne (1773-1817), one of the most notable county natives, was the youngest man ever elected to the Congress of the United States. He cast the crucial vote for Thomas Jefferson in the disputed Presidential Election of 1800. He later served as territorial governor of Mississippi and Louisiana before being elected the first governor of the state of Louisiana in 1812. Less famous individuals, but noteworthy in their own day, were John Y. Mason (1799-1859) and John R. Chambliss (1807-1871), both of whom were closely tied to Sussex County. Although born at "Homestead" in Greensville County, Mason's paternal ancestors and relatives were of Sussex, his home, "Fortsville," was here and he served as Commonwealth's Attorney for the county. He was perhaps Virginia's leading late antebellum statesman, being president of the state constitutional convention of 1851, president of the James River and Kanawha Canal Company, Attorney General of the United States and U.S. Secretary of the Navy, in addition to being both a circuit court judge and federal district court judge. Chambliss was born in Sussex at "Silver Hill," but removed to Hicksford (now Emporia) as a young man. He was nevertheless the first elected Commonwealth's Attorney for Sussex and Greensville in 1852, and in having represented those counties at the constitutional convention of 1851, was one of the most vocal proponents of making public offices elective throughout the state. (Prior to 1852 only members of the General Assembly were popularly elected.) During the Civil War, Chambliss represented Sussex and other counties in the Confederate Congress. His son was a Confederate general.

All of Sussex County was known as Albemarle Parish during colonial times, and all of its citizens were required to support the Anglican, or Established, Church with their taxes and their attendance. The church wardens, rather than the government, took responsibility for the care of the poor. The communion silver used at St. Andrew's Church near Yale still survives and represents one of the most complete sets of colonial church silver in America. Also, the register of births and deaths kept by the Rev. William Willie has also survived as a great genealogical reference to the colonial residents of the county. Growing dissatisfaction with the Established Church during colonial times led to the establishment in Sussex of some of the earliest Baptist and Methodist churches in Virginia. Antioch near Yale, originally known as Raccoon Swamp Meeting House, is regarded as the oldest Baptist church in eastern Virginia, being established in 1772. Sappony Church near Stony Creek, followed, being established in 1773. Its first pastor was the Reverend James Bell, who had relinquished his post as a member of the Virginia House Of Burgesses to devote himself to a new ministry. Bell Road in Sussex, which runs by the site of his home, is named for him. At Jones' Chapel, the site of which is located on Comans Well Road near Interstate Route 95, thousands were converted by itinerant Methodist preachers, including Bishop Francis Asbury. Lane's Chapel, which was located near Airfield Mill Pond near Wakefield, is the third earliest documented Methodist church in Virginia. At Ellis Chapel, which was located near Waverly on Walnut Hill Road, Virginia Methodists, at their annual conference held there in 1783, first went on record as opposing the consumption of alcoholic beverages.

The Quakers also left their mark on the spiritual history of the county. Concentrated near Seacock Swamp near the Wakefield area of the county, they were at the forefront, along with the Methodists, in efforts to emancipate the slaves who formed the majority of the county population. Nearly four hundred slaves were freed in Sussex County by will or deed during the first three decades following 1776. One of these Quakers was John W. Watkins, county surveyor from 1817 to 1830. He, like many of his neighbors, moved to Jefferson County, Ohio, along with their freed slaves, to live on free soil. Michael Bailey, who was clerk of the Sussex County Court from 1785 until his death in 1798, was one of the Quakers who freed his slaves, but was discharged from that religious group for not attending meetings and for serving as a public official.

Through Jarratt and Stony Creek was built, in 1832, the nation's first interstate railroad, the Petersburg and Weldon-now CSX Railway. Through Wakefield and Waverly in 1853 were laid the lines of the Norfolk and Petersburg Railroad, later called the Atlantic, Mississippi and Ohio Railroad and more recently the Norfolk Southern Railway. These railroads put four towns in Sussex on the map, as these communities began to grow by the establishments of depots. Waverly, the oldest town, was chartered in 1879. Wakefield was incorporated in 1902; Stony Creek, in 1915; and Jarratt received its charter in 1938. General William Mahone, who built the Norfolk railroad through Sussex, is memorialized by having Route 460, which parallels it, named in his honor. His wife, Otelia, is remembered for naming the depots established along the way: Waverly for Sir Walter Scott's series of romantic novels and Wakefield for Oliver Goldsmith's Vicar of Wakefield. Mahone, a native of Southampton County, was educated in Sussex at Littleton Academy, distinguished himself as commander of the successful Confederate counterattack during the Battle of the Crater in 1864 and was the prominent political leader of the Readjuster Republican party in postwar Virginia.

Sussex County was the scene of much military activity during the Civil War. Its local cavalry unit, the "Sussex Light Dragoons" borrowed their name from a preceding Revolutionary unit in the county. Its members became a part of the Thirteenth Virginia Cavalry. In May of 1864, Jarratt's Depot was destroyed by Union cavalryman, August Kautz, who demolished all buildings there except the tavern of Humphrey Grigg, which still survives. General John R. Chambliss, Jr., helped save the day for the Confederates at Sappony Church in June 1864, where his great-grandfather was a pastor and where he and General Wade Hampton thwarted 20,000 federal soldiers in their efforts to destroy the railroad. But destroying the railroad, which was Richmond's lifeline, was the persistent quest of the Union army, and repeated skirmishes and attacks continued in Sussex during the latter years of the war. It was en route to Hicksford to destroy the railroad bridge there in December 1864 that Union soldiers destroyed some of the records at Sussex Courthouse and one of them carried off the county seal, only to return it in 1901. All but two record books of the Circuit Court, which met then in sessions of only twice a year, were destroyed, and one of those books was mutilated with a sword and thrown out on the Courthouse green. George W. Prince, the county Court Clerk, foreseeing the imminent danger, had carefully hidden most of the county's most vital records elsewhere. A hospital for Union soldiers was established in one of the dwellings adjoining the Courthouse green. Union General Governeur Warren, returning from his successful raid on the railroad at Hicksford, made his headquarters at "Invermay," the home of Dr. William Briggs, just a mile south of the courthouse. His statue overlooks the battlefield at Gettysburg, where he made a successful repulsion of Confederate troops. Confederate General Wade Hampton had boosted Southern morale in September 1864 with his slick swiping of 2,000 head of cattle herded on the James River in Prince George County and routing them through the backwoods of Sussex County. Beefsteak Road commemorates part of that pathway. In the wake of Union military activity in Sussex County, over fifty black men escaped from their plantations and enlisted as soldiers in the United States Colored Troops. Likewise during these latter days other men in slavery enlisted

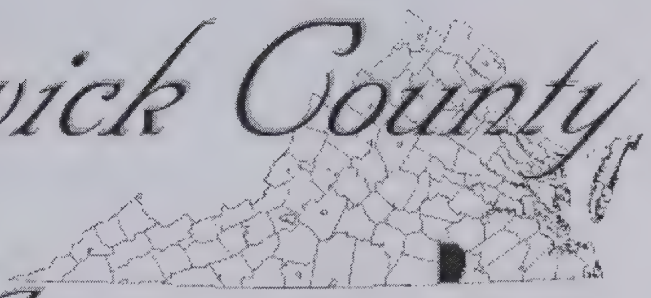
Brunswick County Virginia



Part of the VAGenWeb & USGenWeb Projects

◆Brunswick County, Virginia◆

Named for the duchy of Brunswick-Lineburg, one of the German possessions of King George I. It was formed in 1720 from Prince George but, because of the sparse population, county government was not organized until 1732. In the latter year Brunswick was enlarged by the addition of parts of Surry and Isle of Wight. Its area is 579 square miles, and the county seat is Lawrenceville.

◆About the USGenWeb Project◆

In March and April, 1996, a group of genealogists organized the Kentucky Comprehensive Genealogy Database Project. The idea was to provide a single entry point for all counties in Kentucky, where collected databases would be stored. In addition, the databases would be indexed and cross-linked, so that even if an individual were found in more than one county, they could be located in the index.

In June, as the Kentucky Project was coming to completion, it was decided to create this page for all states, establishing the USGenWeb. Volunteers were found who were willing to coordinate the collection of county pages for a state page. If you would like to contribute your data or create a county page within a given state, please contact the person responsible for maintaining your state page.

Data contributed to this VAGenWeb site must comply with Fair Use and copyright practices. Documents contributed to the USGenWeb and VAGenWeb remain the property of the contributors; however, files can not be removed from the Archives after they have been contributed.

Beth, a Logan Co., KY court case shortly after 1800 includes much info on the Barkers when they lived in Wake Co., NC. A slave woman and her children had been emancipated by the Barkers and then re-enslaved by Robert Sevier, apparently in East TN. The file reportedly contains much testimony from, among others, Sheriff West Maulding of Logan

Co., who married Selah Barker. Randy McConnell, scandalmcc@aol.com

THOMAS JONES

Thomas Jones came to Virginia on the Bona Nova and on January 30, 1625, was living on the Maine (3), just west of Jamestown Island, where he was a 25-year-old servant in surgeon Thomas Bunn's household (CBE 57).

THOMAS JONES

In April 1626 Thomas Jones died while he was in Virginia. Administration of his estate was granted to his principal creditor, Rowland Gold (CBE 71; EEAC 33; MOR 61).

WILLIAM JONES

William Jones died in Elizabeth City (17, 18) sometime after April 1623 but before February 16, 1624 (CBE 45).

WILLIAM JONES

On February 27, 1619, it was decided that William Jones, a boy, would be sent to Virginia. He was one of the youngsters rounded up from the streets of London so that they could be sent to the colony (CBE 12).

WILLIAM JONES

William Jones, who was from Michmanssell in Herefordshire, arrived in Jamestown (1) on September 5, 1623, on the Ann and took the oath of supremacy. On February 16, 1624, Jones and his wife were living in the rural part of Jamestown Island, where he was a household head. Sometime after April 1623 but before February 16, 1624, William Jones's servant died (MCGC 6; CBE 39-40).

MRS. WILLIAM JONES

On February 16, 1624, Mrs. William Jones and her husband were living in the rural part of Jamestown Island (1), where William was a household head. William had arrived in Jamestown on September 5, 1623, and was a free man (MCGC 6; CBE 40).

WILLIAM JONES

William Jones came to Virginia on the Southampton in 1623 and on January 20, 1625, was a 23-year-old servant living in Abraham Peirsey's household at Flowerdew Hundred (53) (CBE 50).

WILLIAM JONES (GOONES)

On February 3, 1626, when William Eppes patented some land, he used the headright of William Jones (Goones), who came to Virginia on the Anne in 1623 (PB 1 Pt. 1:49).

[NO FIRST NAME] JOPE

In January 1620 John Rolfe identified Captain Jope as the man who brought a Dutch man-of-war to Virginia with 20-some Africans and arrived at Old Point Comfort (17) in late August 1619 (VCR 3:243).

PETER JORDAN (JORDEN)

On December 31, 1619, officials at Bridewell decided that Peter Jordan (Jorden), who was from Cheapside and was being detained, would be sent to Virginia. Jordan came to Virginia on the London Merchant in 1620 and on February 16, 1624, was living at the College (66). He was still there on January 23, 1625, when he was identified as a 22-year-old servant in the household of Thomas Osborne (CBE 15, 35, 53).

PETER JORDAN (JORDEN)

When the Indians attacked Powle-Brooke or Merchants Hope (50) on March 22, 1622, Peter Jordan (Jorden) was killed. He may have been the same individual who formerly had been incarcerated at Bridewell (VCR 3:569).

ROBERT JORDAN

On December 31, 1619, it was decided that Robert Jordan, who was being detained at Bridewell, would be sent to Virginia. On March 22, 1622, when an Indian attack occurred at Berkeley Hundred (55), Robert Jordan was killed (CBE 15; VCR 3:567).

SAMUEL JORDAN (JORDAIN, JORDEN, JERDEN)

Samuel Jordan (Jordain, Jorden, Jerden), an ancient planter, came to Virginia in 1610. His arrival date suggests that he was aboard one of the three ships in the fleet of Thomas West, Lord De La Warre, whose June arrival narrowly averted the abandonment of the colony. Jordan probably resided in the vicinity of Charles (or Bermuda) Hundred (39), where John Rolfe and Sir Thomas Dale also lived, for a patent he received in 1620 indicates that he had a dwelling there. In July-August 1619 Samuel Jordan was one of two men who represented the corporation of Charles City in Virginia's first legislative assembly. He also was among the eight men appointed to review one of the four books of laws that had been sent to Virginia. By December 21, 1620, he had wed a young woman named Cisley and received a patent for 450 acres, his first dividend of land. On account of his service to the colony, he was promised a like amount of acreage as soon as he seated his first claim. In December 1620 Samuel Jordan was credited with property in three locations: 50 acres in Charles Hundred that had a house; 12 acres and a tenement abutting west on Captain John Martin's land (59); and 388 acres in or near Sandys Hundred, on the north side of the James River, a probable reference to Southampton Hundred (44), a plantation in which several Virginia Company officials had invested heavily. Jordan quickly acquired his second dividend of land on the south side of the James River, land he seated and called Beggars Bush or Jordan's Journey (46).

In 1621 the Virginia Company sent Samuel Jordan numerous barrels of cider, which suggests that he was in their employ. One of his servants was identified as an apprentice, which raises the possibility that Jordan had some type of specialized skill. In July 1622 he received from Virginia Company investor Mary Tue a share of Company stock that entitled him to 100 acres in Digges Hundred (43), a tract that lay to the west of West and Shirley Hundred (41) on the north side of the James River. When a list of patented land was sent back to England in May 1625, Samuel Jordan was credited with 450 acres "in the territory of Great Weyanoke" within the Corporation of Charles City, acreage that was described as seated (planted). On March 22, 1622, when Indians attacked the settlements along the banks of the James River, Samuel Jordan was living at Jordan's Journey. According to Captain John Smith, he brought some of the survivors from neighboring plantation to Jordan's Journey, which he fortified and made defensible. Samuel Jordan and his wife, Cisley, produced two daughters, Mary (born around 1621) and Margaret. He died sometime after April 1623 but before November 19, 1623, at which time William Farrar (Ferrar, Ferrer) was ordered to bring in an account of his estate. Farrar, whose plantation on the east side of the Appomattox River (39) had been hard hit in the March 1622 Indian attack, moved to Jordan's Journey and on February 16, 1624, was living in the household of the widowed Cisley Jordan. Court testimony dating to September 12, 1625, reveals that Samuel Jordan sometimes traded with John Pountis and Dictorius Christmas, both of whom were associated with Southampton Hundred and Elizabeth City (17, 18). Joan Vinsone of Bermuda Hundred, a known gossip, claimed that Samuel Jordan had had a romantic relationship with Alice Boyse of Bermuda Hundred, which caused problems in his marriage to wife Cisley (VCR 2:74, 89; 3:65, 154, 159, 612; 4:218-220, 554; PB 8:125; MCGC 8, 31, 70; FER 322; CBE 36, 51; CJS 2:295; DOR 2:363-364).

CISLEY (CICELEY, CECILY, SYSELY, SISLEY) JORDAN (JORDAIN, JORDEN, JERDEN) (MRS. SAMUEL JORDAN [JORDAIN, JORDEN, JERDEN]), (MRS. WILLIAM FARRAR [FERRAR, FERRER])

On January 21, 1625, Cisley Jordan (Jordain, Jorden, Jerden), an ancient planter, reported that she had arrived in Virginia in August 1610 on the Swan. As she was 24 years old in 1625, she would have been around 9 or 10 years old when she came to the colony.

Cisley may have wed ancient planter John Bayley and produced a daughter, Temperance, who was age 7 in January 1625 and living in her home. It is certain that Cisley married ancient planter Samuel Jordan sometime prior to December 21, 1620, when he received his first dividend of land, which also included her entitlement as an ancient planter. The Jordans took up residence on the lower side of the James River at a plantation they called Jordan's Journey (46). After the March 22, 1622, Indian attack, the Jordan plantation was strengthened and became a rallying point for the area's survivors. Cisley Jordan was widowed sometime after April 1623, and on November 19, 1623, she was authorized to settle her late husband's estate, with the help of William Farrar. Farrar, who at the time of the Indian attack had been occupying a plantation on the east side of the Appomattox River, somewhat inland from Bermuda Hundred (39), may have taken refuge at Jordan's Journey and stayed on. Three or four days after Samuel Jordan's death, the Rev. Grivell Pooly (Pooley), the local minister, expressed an interest in marrying the recently widowed Cisley. When a third party inquired whether she would consider the match, she said that "she would not marry any man until she was delivered," an indication that she was pregnant at the time of Samuel Jordan's death. Afterward, Pooly and Mrs. Cisley Jordan pledged to wed and purportedly drank a toast. Pooley claimed that Cisley asked that their engagement be kept secret, as her late husband's death was so recent. Cisley Jordan later declared that she intended to marry William Farrar and denied that she ever had been engaged to Grivel Pooly. If a rumor spread by JoanVinsone, a community gossip, was true, Cisley's marriage to Samuel Jordan was an unhappy one on account of his love for Alice Boyse, a married woman and resident of Bermuda Hundred. On February 16, 1624, Mrs. Jordan and Farrar were listed as jointly heading a Jordan's Journey household that included her daughters Mary and Margery Jordan, young Temperance Bayley, and several servants. As the cohabitation of a heterosexual couple was illegal, their living arrangements attracted the attention of their neighbors and, ultimately, the authorities. On January 3, 1625, Nathaniel Causey (then a resident of Jordan's Journey) testified that Mrs. Jordan had had a frightening vision in which she and her child were touched by a pair of ghostly hands and a voice cried "Judgment, Judgment." He said that he had never seen Mrs. Jordan and Mr. Farrar indulge in unfitting behavior but he had seen them kiss. On the other hand, the spurned Rev. Pooly claimed that Mrs. Jordan's behavior with Farrar was scandalous and publicly accused her of breach of promise. The justices of the General Court, forced to deal with the legal ramifications of breaking a marriage contract, sought advice from officials in England. After the charges against Mrs. Jordan were dismissed, Pooly agreed to release her from their marriage agreement. On January 21, 1625, when a muster was made of Jordans Journey's inhabitants, Cisley Jordan and William Farrar were listed as jointly heading a household that included her daughters Mary and Margaret Jordan, Temperance Bayley, and 10 male servants. By May 1625 Cisley and William Farrar had wed. Probate records indicate that they produced at least three children: Cecily, William, and John (CBE 36, 51; PB 8:125; VCR 2:519; 4:218-220; MCGC 31, 41-42, 57; DOR 1:928; 2:363-364).

MARGARET (MARGERY) JORDAN (JORDAIN, JORDEN, JERDEN)

On February 16, 1624, Margaret (Margery), the infant daughter of Samuel and Cisley Jordan (Jordain, Jorden, Jerden), was living at Jordan's Journey (46) in a household headed by her widowed mother and William Farrer. On January 21, 1625, when a muster was made of the community's inhabitants, Margaret was described as a 1-year-old girl who had been born in Virginia. Her birth occurred somewhat after her father's death (CBE 36, 51).

MARY JORDAN (JORDAIN, JORDEN, JERDEN)

On February 16, 1624, Mary, the daughter of Samuel and Cisley Jordan (Jordain, Jorden, Jerden), was living at Jordan's Journey (46) in the household headed by her widowed mother and William Farrer. On January 21, 1625, when a muster was made of Jordan's Journey's inhabitants, Mary was described as a 3-year-old girl who was born in Virginia. Also living in the Jordan household was Mary's mother, Cisley, Mary's baby sister, Margaret, 7-year-old Temperance Bayley, and William Farrer, who became her stepfather (CBE 36, 51).

THOMAS JORDAN (JERDAN)

Thomas Jordan (Jerdan) came to Virginia on the Diana and on February 16, 1624, was living on the Maine (3) or mainland just west of Jamestown Island. On January 30, 1625, when a muster was made of that area's inhabitants, Thomas, who was age 24, was described as one of the governor's servants. After fulfilling his contract as an indentured servant, Thomas Jordan rose in prominence. In 1629 and 1632 he served as a burgess for the corporation of Warresqueak (later, Isle of Wight County) and as a commissioner of the area's monthly court. On July 2, 1635, Thomas patented 900 acres in Warresqueak on the basis of 18 headrights, an indication that he was a successful planter (CBE 39, 57; HEN 1:154, 169, 179, 187; MCGC 200; PB 1 Pt. 1:233, 278; DOR 2:365).

WILLIAM JORDAN (JOURDEN)

On January 29, 1620, the justices of Bridewell decided that William Jordan (Jourden), who had been brought from Fleet Street, would be sent to Virginia. On March 22, 1622, when the Indians attacked the settlement at the College Land (66), William was killed (CBE 18; VCR 3:566).

JOHN JORNALL

John Jornall came to Virginia in 1623 on the Ann and on February 16, 1624, was living in Elizabeth City (18). When a muster was made of that area's inhabitants in early 1625, John was identified as a 20-year-old servant in the household of Michael Wilcocks and John Slater on the west side of the Hampton River (CBE 43, 64).

ASHER JOY

On December 4, 1634, when Hugh Cox received a court order entitling him to a patent, he listed Asher Joy as a headright (PB 1 Pt. 1:282).

JOHN JOYCE (JOYSE)

In early August 1626 John Joyce (Joyse) was hauled before the General Court and charged with being a thief and a runaway. Court testimony reveals that Joyce, who was one of Ensign Francis Eppes's servants and lived at West and Shirley Hundred (41), had fled from his master, taking along two guns, powder, shot, and a canoe that he had stolen from Simon Sturgis (Turgis). After two witnesses testified, the justices decided that John Joyce's master had neither mistreated him nor deprived him of food and other necessities. Therefore, they sentenced him to a severe whipping and decided that after he fulfilled his original commitment to Francis Eppes, plus an additional six months, he would be made to serve the colony for five years. He was said to be stubborn and have a foul and unruly disposition. Eppes used John Joyce as a headright when patenting some land on August 26, 1635 (MCGC 105; PB 1 Pt. 2:280).

WILLIAM JOYCE (JOY, JOYNES)

William Joyce (Joy, Joynes) came to Virginia on the Abigail in 1621 and on February 16, 1624, was living in Elizabeth City. In early 1625 he was still there and was residing on the east side of the Hampton River on the Virginia Company's land (17). Joyce was then a 26-year-old servant or tenant in the household of William Barry. On January 12, 1627, when the tenants of the defunct Virginia Company were distributed among high-ranking public officials, William Joyce was assigned to Surveyor William Claiborne, who had property in Elizabeth City on the west side of the Hampton River (18) (CBE 43, 68; MCGC 136).

JOHN JOYNER

On January 29, 1620, the justices of Bridewell decided that John Joyner, who had been brought in from London's Fleet Street, would be sent to Virginia. He probably was one of the children rounded up from the streets so that they could be sent to the colony (CBE 18).

MADDAR JULIAN (JULYAN)

In 1619 it was decided that Maddar Julian (Julyan), a thief from Middlesex who was being detained in Newgate Prison, would be reprieved and transported overseas (CBE 12).

MEDARTUS JULIAN (JULYAN)

On November 20, 1622, Medartus Julian (Julyan), who was being detained in Newgate Prison, was pardoned and deemed suit

FOREWORD

Surry County was formed in 1652 from a part of James City County, one of the original shires of 1634, on the south side of the James River and extended from the river to the North Carolina border. Brunswick County was formed from Surry County in 1723 and Sussex County was formed from it in 1753-1754. Due to the loss of many of the court records of Dinwiddie County, Charles City County and Prince George County, the records of Surry County have taken on even greater importance since there was much movement in these early years over county lines, the James River and the North Carolina border.

The Estate Accounts are included to provide a record of those usually hard-to-find persons who did not buy or sell land or have wills and their administrators along with the large number of persons of all social levels who made purchases at estate sales. The extensive INDEX is useful in that you will find the names of all individuals mentioned in this book which includes the names of adjoining neighbors to the lands being sold along with water courses, bridges, etc. and other counties in both Virginia and North Carolina.

There is no General Index to deeds for Surry County before the year 1848 and some of the individual books have lost their first pages where the index for that book would have been found. Fortunately, the original books were not destroyed but some of them have suffered greatly and are very difficult to read. To provide continuity, a companion volume to this book of deeds is available with the title, SURRY COUNTY, VIRGINIA DEEDS 1684 - 1733 and OTHER COURT PAPERS by William Lindsay Hopkins.

Since the spelling of proper names was not uniform at this early time and there is always the possibility that the compiler may have missed something in the reading, it is advisable for the reader to look at a copy of the original deed and to read it for himself.

Generation No. 1

1. LANDMAN[1] SHORT was born Abt. 1740. He married UNKNOWN. She was born Abt. 1742.

Notes for LANDMAN SHORT:
MILITIA RECORDS
The first mention of Landman Short which we have found so far is in Captain William Haywood's Company, Edgecombe, NC--exact date unknown, but in the 1750's. ["Colonial Soldiers of the South", Murtie June Clark, 1986]. Landman Short is one of 106 men listed. Also on the list is George Short, whose son, William, was later in Wake Co., NC, at the same time that Landman was. A thorough search of the Edgecombe, NC records available at the Salt Lake library, did not yield another mention of Landman Short.
Prior to 1770, the same book cited above, shows Landman Short in the Johnston Co., NC militia, commanded by Simon Turner. Landman was one of 61 men. Wake Co., NC was formed from Johnston Co. Johnston Co. suffered a loss of records, and no further mention of Landman Short has been located in that county.

NOTE:
This will was contested, and the Barren Co. Court refused to record the will. The matter was taken to the State of Kentucky Court of Appeals, in the case of by Thomas Hinton [by his next friend, Benj. Cockran] against James Barlow. The Appeals Court set aside the judgment of the Barren Co. Court. The will was finally recorded in Barren Co. January Court, 1815.

October Court, 1816. Ordered that James Barlow, SION SHORT, Samuel Carpenter, Lovel Stinston or any three being first sworn do view the nearest and best way for a road from the State line near Nancy Drivers to Saml. Carpenters Old place & report to the Court.

In 1820, Monroe Co., KY was formed from Barren Co.

Sion Short is found with:
2 males 10-26 [believe these are Alford & Lanman III]
1 male age 45 and older [Sion]
1 female age 10-16 [?]
1 female age 16-26 [?]
1 female age 26-45 [Dicey]

Sion is on the 1820, 1821, 1823, 1824 tax lists of Barren Co. It is presumed he died circa 1825. Other Shorts are Alford Short: 1820, 1821, 1822, 1823, 1825, 1826, 1828 tax lists. [Alford is the correct age to be Sion's eldest son.]
Landman Short Jr. 1823, 1823, 1824, 1825, 1826 tax lists [Landman Jr. or III, is the correct age to be Sion's second son]

Notes for DICEY ASHE:
1830 CENSUS, MONROE CO., KY
[The only Short on the census in this county is:
Dicey Short: age 20-30
2 males under age 5 [??]
1 female age 5-10 [?]
1 female age 20-30 [?]
1 female age 60-70
*[We have been assuming that the Dicey Short on the 1830 Monroe Co. census, is the widow of Sion. But upon reflection, I am not so sure. Dicey was age 26-45 in 1820, and so should be age 36-55 in 1830. But the two older females in the household are [1] age 20-30; [2] age 60-70, neither of which fit the age of Sion's wife. IF the Dicey Short, shown as head of household in 1830 is age 20-30, she may be the same Dicey Short shown on the 1850 census in Monroe Co.: [there were NO Shorts in Monroe., in 1840.

1850 Monroe Co. Census:

Dicey Short	46	female	NC
James	23	male	KY
Derinda	26	female	KY
Hosea	20	male	KY
Wm.	17	male	KY
John	16	male	KY
Elizabeth	9	female	KY
John	7/12	male	KY

[Note: Is it possible that Alford Short married a woman with the given name of Dicey, and that this is HIS widow? Notice that there are two males with the name of John, so at least one must be a grandson. Some of the other younger children may be grandchildren, also, by a deceased son. Derinda may be James' wife, and young John, may be their son.

We don't really know that Sion died in Monroe Co. He disappears from the tax list after 1824, but he [with Dicey] may also have left the county, as the other Shorts did.

Children of SION SHORT and DICEY ASHE are:

i. DAUGHTER[3] SHORT, b. 1798.
ii. DAUGHTER SHORT, b. 1799.
iii. ALFORD? SHORT, b. 1800.

Notes for ALFORD? SHORT:

Sion Short is on the 1820, 1821, 1823, 1824 tax lists of Barren Co., KY. It is presumed he died circa 1825. Other Shorts are

He married MARY COLE Abt. 1794 in probably in Wake Co., NC, daughter of JOHN COLE and ELIZABETH. She was born Abt. 1775 in NC (probably Wake Co.), and died Aft. 1850 in probably in White Co., TN.

Notes for BURRELL SHORT:

Burrell Short [shown as 'Barwell'] was living in Wake co., NC in 1800,

1 male	26-45	[b. 1755-1774]	Burrell b. c. 1774
1 male	-10	[b. 1790-1800]	Jonathan b. c. 1794

1 female	-10	[b. 1790-1800]	Elizabeth b. c. 1798

2 unidentified males, 16-26

In 1790 there were three Shorts listed as head of household in Wake Co., NC:

Sion Shorte, with 2 white males +16 and 1 white female

Lundmun [Landman] Short with 3 white males +16; 2 white males -16; 4 white females

George Shorte with 1 white male +16 and 2 white females.

Other SHORTs in Wake Co. in 1800 were:

Short, Sihon 1 - - 1 - 2 - 1 - -

Short, Needham - - - 1 - 4 - 1 - -

Short, Isiah - - 1 - - 1 - 1 - 1

Short, Landman 1 - 1 - 1 - - 1 - 1

Short, Manney 3 - - - - 2 - 1 1 -

There were no SHORTs in Wake Co. in 1810.

Burrell Short's name first appears in the Wake Co.Court records in June of 1798, when he and William Brown become securities for Sarah Johnston to administer the estate of her deceased husband, Hardy Johnston. On May 2, 1800 Burwell Short is shown [among many others] as owing money to the estate of Britain Sanders. In August of 1801 Burwell Short once again joined with William Brown to give security, this time to Burwell Franklin, to indemnify the Parish for the base begotten child begotten by Franklin on the body of Rachel Wade. In May 1804, Burrell Short purchased land from Landman Short in Wake Co. The deed was proven by the oath of Nathaniel Jones. In December of 1805 Needham Short and Burwell Short were among the purchasers at the estate sale of Phebe Utley. In August 1808 Burwell Short was included on a list of insolvents submitted to the Wake Co. Court by Willie Jones. It is likely by this time that Burrell Short had already removed his family from North Carolina and had taken them to White Co., Tennessee.

Burrell Short died intestate some time in early 1810 in White Co., TN. White Co. Court Book, 1806--1811, p. 157 [LDS Film #0024864] shows that on May 15th, 1810, it was "Ordered by court that Leteers of Administration be and they are hereby directed to issue to Mary Short of all and singular the goods and chattles, rights and credits, of Burrel Short, who made oath & together with Rober Glenn and David Rutledge, entered into bond in the penalty of one thousand dollars, conditioned as the law requires. They having returned an inventory of the goods and chattles of the said Burrel Short decesed.

In the same court book on p. 186, we find: "August 14, 1810. This day Mary Short returned here into the Court an account of sale of the property of Burrel Short late of the county of White, amounting to three hundred and seventy eight dollars and thirty cents, which was ordered to be recorded. The Sheriff returned then the venire facias to him directed."

The White Co., TN Inventories & Wills Book A, 1810-1828, [LDS film #0024865], pp. 1-6, shows the inventory and sale of the estate of Burrell Short, from May 30, 1810 through August 13th 1810.

Before his death Burrel Short had already started the paper work to receive a White Co. land grant of 100 acres. It was granted to his widow, Mary, on 05 February 1811, certificate No. 462, by No. 5890.

Notes for MARY COLE:

Mary Cole likely married her husband, Burrell Short in Wake Co., NC. It's likely that the John Cole who left a will in Wake Co. in 1806, naming wife, Elizabeth and daughter, Mary [among eleven other children] was her father.

Mary is shown on the 1811-1813 White Co., TN tax list, with the 100 acres of land, orginally granted to her husband. On the 1814-1816 tax list, Mary had added fifteen acres of land to her holdings. By the 1817-1818 tax list, she had added yet another 15 acres, bringing the total to 130 acres.

Mary is shown as head of household in 1820 in White Co. as being age 26-44. With her was one male 16-25, [likely Young]; one male 10-15 [Burrell Jr.]; one female 10-15 [daughter Sarah]. Mary's son Jonathan and her daughters Elizabeth & Mary were already married and out of the household.

Between 1822-1824 Mary is shown on the White co. tax list, with 130 acres of land. Her son Jonathan is listed with one poll.

In 1825 Mary sold 15 acres of her land to her son, Jonathan Short, in two parcels; one of thirteen acres and one of 2 acres. The selling price was $30.00.

On the 1830 White Co. census, Mary is living with her son, Jonathan Short.

On 24 February 1838 Mary finalized the sale of her 100 acres of land to her son, Burrell Jr. She had actually turned this land over to him [according to the tax lists] in 1825. The document which records the final sale is of great genealogical interest: .

White Co., TN Deed Book, pp. 392-393

State of Tennessee White county. Personally appeared before me Nicholas Oldham, Clerk of White county Court, Mary Scurlock one other of the within conveyors, wife of William Scurlock, who being examined separate from her said husband acknowledged that she executed the within deed freely, without compulsion from her said husband. 12 February 1844.

Filed 12 February 1844, and registered the same day.

[WHY is Young Short not mentioned in the above deed? It may be that he was out of the state when this deed was first executed, so can it be possible that they just ignored him?]

[notice that Mary Short is called "formerly Cole" in the above].

In the 1850 White Co. census, Mary Shorte, age 75, born in North Carolina, is shown as living next door to Susan Short, who was the widow of Burrell Short Jr.

vi. ROBERT A SHORT.

Generation No. 3

7. LANDMAN[3] SHORT (SION[2], LANDMAN[1]) was born 1802 in North Carolina. He married NANCY PARE, daughter of WILLIAM PARE and REBECCA. She was born 1808 in KY.

Notes for LANDMAN SHORT:
Believe that Landman Short III was listed on the 1820 census [age 16-26] in his father Sion's houshold in Monroe Co., KY:
Short Scion. 2 males 16-26; 1 male 45+; 1 female 10-16; 1 female 16-26; 1 female 45+

Sion Short is on the 1820, 1821, 1823, 1824 tax lists of Barren Co. It is presumed he died circa 1825. Other Shorts are

Alford Short: 1820, 1821, 1822, 1823, 1825, 1826, 1828 tax lists. [Alford is the correct age to be Sion's eldest son.]

Landman Short Jr. 1823, 1823, 1824, 1825, 1826 tax lists [Landman Jr. or III, is the correct age to be Sion's second son]

Landman Short 1820, 1821, 1822, 1823, 1824 tax lists [Sion's brother--to Allen Co., KY]

There are PAREs on the Monroe Co. tax lists. Sion is living right next door to William Pare in 1820. This is the future father-in-law of Landman Short III, who married Nancy Pare.
Monroe Tax Lists: William Pare: 1820, 1821, 1822, 1823, 1824, 1825, 1826, 1827.

In 1830 Landman Short is in Hardeman Co., TN:
Lanmand Short: 2 males -5; 1 male 10-30; 1 female 10-30 .

Landman Short is shown on the tax lists in Hardeman, TN. beginning in 1830 through 1839 [although he is not listed in 1835]. He is not shown as owning any land.

In 1850 Landman Short is in Lafayette, MS:

vii. MARY P. SHORT, b. 1844, Mississippi.
viii. COLUMBUS SHORT, b. 1845, Mississippi.
ix. MARTHA A. SHORT, b. 1849, Mississippi.

8. NEEDHAM JR.[3] SHORT (NEEDHAM[2], LANDMAN[1]) was born Abt. 1807 in Kentucky. He married (1) UNKNOWN Abt. 1821. He married (2) NANCY Abt. 1842. She was born 1816 in Virginia.

Notes for NEEDHAM JR. SHORT:
Needham Short is on the District 4 1836 Benton Land poll tax list, [found at the Benton Co., TN internet site] . This might be Needham Sr., however. But it shows that the family was in Benton, shortly after that county was formed.

Lewis Barker & Zachariah Barker [along with a Howell W. Barker] are also listed on the tax list in District 4. My husband's Young Short married Rhoda Barker, daughter of Lewis, and we think that Zachariah Barker, son of Lewis, married Celia Short, daughter of Needham Sr.

In trying to put together the family of Needham Short Jr., it appears to me that Needham Jr. was married twice. All of the children with him and his wife, Nancy, on the 1860 census, with the exception of N.J. belong to the second marriage. Nancy says on that census that she is age 44, or born in 1816. She is too young to be the mother of the most of the children, shown on the earlier censuses with Needham Jr.

1830 CENSUS HUMPHREYS CO., TN
Needham Short
1 male under 5 [?] [a grandson?]
1 male 20-30 [Needham Jr.?]
1 male 60-70 [Needham]
1 female under 5 [?-a granddaughter?]
1 female 20-30 [a daughter or Needham Jr.'s wife?]
1 female age 60-70 [wife of Needham]

The 1830 census shows Needham Short Sr., but I think Needham Jr. and his wife & two children were living in the household at that time. Nancy Short [I believe the SECOND wife of Needham], would only have been fourteen years old at this time, and there are already two children.

The 1840 census, Benton Co., TN
Needham Short [This is Jr.]
122001 - 100001001
1 male under 5 [N.J.. Short, on 1860 census]
2 males 5-10 [one of these, L.S. Short on 1860 census
2 males 10--15
1 male 30--40 [Needham Jr.]
1 female under 5
1 female 30--40 [wife of Needham Jr., but not Nancy, who would have been 20-30]
1 female 60--70

1850 Benton Co. Tn:

Assuming that Needham's first wife had died shortly after 1840 & he married Nancy circa 1842, then all of the children with Needham on the 1860 census, except N.J. would have belonged to Nancy.

Notes for JONATHAN SHORT:
Jonathan Short was the eldest child of Burrell and Mary Cole Short. He was evidently born in Wake Co., NC about 1794. The 1850 White Co. census gives his age as 56, although the 1870 White co. census shows him as age 72 in that year.

In reviewing the early census records for Jonathan Short, you will see that he had a total of three sons:
one born between 1815--1820
one born between 1830-1835
one born between 1835--1840

His mother, Mary Short conveyed 15 acres of land to him in 1825, and it was acknowledged in open court on 10 Oct. 1845.

Children of JONATHAN SHORT and MARY are:

i. LUCINDA[4] SHORT, b. Abt. 1817, White Co., TN; m. LECIL SMITH.
ii. MARY MAXIMILLA SHORT, b. White Co., TN; m. JOSEPH BENAGY MCGOWAN.
iii. INTHA SHORT, b. Abt. 1828, White Co., TN; m. JOSHUA PURSER.

viii. ALBERT SHORT, b. White Co., TN.
20. ix. E. SHORT, b. White Co., TN.

10. YOUNG[3] SHORT (BURRELL[2], LANDMAN[1]) was born Abt. 1797 in NC (probably Wake Co.), and died 1866 in probably in Tishomingo Co., MS. He married RODA BARKER Abt. 1824 in probably in Humphreys Co., TN, daughter of LEWIS BARKER and MARY READ. She was born Abt. 1806 in Tennessee, and died Bet. 1856 - 1867 in probably in Tishomingo Co., MS.

Notes for YOUNG SHORT:
Young Short is likely the male age 16-25 shown in the household of his widowed mother, Mary Cole Short, in White Co., TN in 1820. The first certain record, however, for Young Short is in the White Co. Court Records, when he is found on an 1822 list of crews to repair the road, along with his brothers Jonathan and Burrell Jr. Soon after this Young must have left White Co. for Humphreys Co., TN, where Young is found listed on p.333 as Younger Short, in 1830. The children in the household are two males under age 5, who would be Lewis and Burrel and one female under age 5, who would be Rebecca Ann. His wife is listed in the age 20-30 age catagory, which would fit, but the only other male in the household is listed as age 15-20, which could not be Young. Young was either inadvertently omitted from this census, or was marked in the wrong age column. Young's assumed father-in-law, Lewis Barker, was a resident of Humphreys [later Benton] Co. TN in 1830 on p. 326, with one male age 70-80 and one female age 50-60. Also on p. 326 a Needham Short is listed [1m -5; 1m 20-30; 1 m 60-70; 1 f 5-10; 1 f 20-30; 1 f 40-50]. Needham Short appears repeatedly in the Wake Co., NC records, beginning in 1793, and it appears likely that he is the uncle of Young Short, and may have been the reason that Young went to Humphreys Co. in the first place. Rounding out the possible relatives in Humphreys in 1830, is another Lewis Barker on p. 315 and also a Shadrack Barker on the same page.

The state census of Tishomingo Co., MS was taken on 20 January 1837. In it is listed a Young Choat, with 4 males and 3 females. This may have been Young Short. Certainly Young was in Tishomingo when he secured a note in the amount of $400.00 owed by W.M. Barker on 16 March 1839. The indenture was secured with the following property: one black mare, one bay mare pony, eleven head of cattle, consisting of cows, yearlings and calves, thirty head of stock hogs, two feather beds & steads of furniture, one chest, one dining table together with all his household and kitchen furniture. The note was due on 15 March 1841. It was signed by Young Short with his mark [X] and by M.W. Barker and witnessed by B.C. Reeves. [Alcorn Co. Deed Bk A, p. 347-348--LDS Film #895873]

Young and his family were on the 1840 Tishomingo Federal census: 1 m 5-10 [Jonathan]; 2 m 10-15 [Lewis & Burrel]; 1 m 40-50 [Young]; 2 f -5 [Martha & Lucinda]; 1 f 5-10 [Ann]; 1 f 30-40 [Roda].

Young Short as highest bidder, purchased from the Tishomingo Co. Sheriff, on 08 March 1840, some properaty at Jacinto, one undivided moiety of one half interest that James W. Jenkens had in the southeast quarter of section 28, township 2, range 9 east, to satisfy a debt that Jenkens owed to Young Short for $201.12 including damages and interest.

Beginning in 1840, Young began to purchase government land, which was in Tishomingo Co. then, but now falls into Alcorn Co.:
1840, Nov. 16. 160.19 acres; 1842, Apr. 9 157.83 acres; 1842, Apr. 9 157.2 acres; 1845, June 26 159.87 acres; 1845 June 26 159.94 acres; 1845, Oct. 9 160.04 acres; 1845, Oct. 9 154.89 acres bidder at public auction for the sum of fifty dollars which Young paid to William Duncan, Sheriff

2 Mar 1847 action was taken against the undivided interest of James W.
Jenkens in a certain piece of land being a part of the southwest quarter of section No. 2, township 2, range 8 east. Judgement was executed in the Circuit Court of Tishomingo County on the 17th day of November 1846 in favor of Young Short for $201.17 debt and $56.18 damages. The land was sold at auction to Young Short, the highest bidder, for $50.

Comments from Louise Hassel;
I think that the $50 probably covered both this last transaction and the one above it. These last two pieces of land were sold in 1850 and 1848 respectively. There is no record of the sale Young's interest in the first piece in Section 28. A few years before his death, Young and Roda sold 640 acres in two transactions, the land being located in three different sections and in two different ranges. Since the BLM land is roughly a section, 640 acres, or possibly two sections [I haven't looked at the actual records yet] I guess he probably held on to all or part of that land, but I don't know why these deeds weren't also recorded in Tishomingo County. Anyway, it does explain where all his land came from.

In rough numbers, Young and Roda sold about 640 acres of land around 1856.
During probate of Young's estate, another 640 acres was sold at public auction (1867 I think). This GLO land is largely accounted for in these sales. HOWEVER 3 quarter sections are not accounted for in the probate documents and deeds that I have, and in addition, there were two quarter sections plus 5 acres in another quarter section that were sold during probate, but are not found in the GLO land (or in any deeds -- that I have found anyway. In addition, there is no recorded sale for the undivided interest in the land that Young got in 1844 from James Jenkens. This is a LOT of land. He started buying about 1844 (although there's one piece dated 1840) and continued through 1845. These were all cash sales. Where did he get the money?

On 8 April 1844, Stephen O. Gibbs Sheriff of Tishomingo Co. granted to Young Short, as highest bidder at $30.00 on the property of James W. Jinkens, 1/2 interest in a quarter section of land. [Alcorn Co. Deed Bk G, pp. 307-308--LDS film #895874]

Young Short is shown on the 1845 Tishomingo County state census, with six males and five females. The males would be Young, Lewis, Burrell, Jonathan, Albert & Calvin; the females would be Roda, Rebecca Ann, Lucinda, Martha Jane & Paralee.

On 02 March 1847 once again Young became the highest bidder at public auction on the property of James W. Jenkens to satisfy the amount of debt owing to Young Short from Jenkins. This time Young purchased Lot no. 6, Block no. 2, Farmington, Tishomingo Co., MS for the sum of $50.00. On the same day action was taken against the undivided interest of James W. Jenkens in a certain piece of land being a part of the southwest quarter of section No. 2, township 2, range 8 east. Judgement was executed in the Circuit court of Tishomingo County on the 17th day of November 1846 in favor of Young Short for $201.17 debt and $56.18 damages. The land was sold at auction to Young Short, the highest bidder for $50.00. [Alcorn Co. Deed Book H, pp. 397-399--LDS Film #895875]

In 1848, on 12 August, Young and Roady Short are shown as selling to Isiah P. Young for sixty five dollars, a tract of land in Tishomingo, formerly the undivided interest of James W. Jenkens to a certain piece of land being a part of the South east quarter of Section two of Township two of Range eight East. [Alcorn Deed Bk M, pp. 146-147--LDS Film #895875]

On the 1860 tax list of Tishomingo Co., Young Short is shown as owning six slaves. Young is not listed in the 1860 Tishomingo Co. census, however.

Luke L. Short
(1854-1893)
(Luke3, George Washington2, Josiah1)

Luke's relationship to the Pollock and Norton families is as follows: Luke's aunt was Nancy Short. Nancy married Edward Norton.
Edward and Nancy had a daughter named Martha Emily Norton, she married Isaac James Pollock. So Luke and Martha Emily were first cousins. The first reference to Luke is mentioned in a letter from a grandson of, Jacob, to one of his children. In the letter, he states that Luke had lived in Fort Worth and had killed a policeman in self-defense and that Luke's brother had "got in trouble in San Angelo." (Smith 77). He related how Luke's father owned a farm near Whitesboro, Texas and Luke owned a ranch near Bowie, Texas.

The following story is from a book entitled Great Gunfighters of the Kansas Cowtowns 1867-1886 by Nyle H. Miller and Joseph W.
Snell. The account is taken primarily from newspaper accounts and wire messages. It is not the full story, nor necessarily accurate seeing as how the newspapers were not entirely accurate in their relaying the story. But it does give background and a point of reference.

Luke was a famous gambler from Texas who became well-known for the part he played in the "Dodge City Wars" in Kansas in the 1880's. From published newspaper reports, Luke was a "regular dandy, quite handsome...a perfect ladies man. He [dressed] fashionably,...[wa]s particular as to his appearance, and always t[ook] pains to look as neat as possible." (Miller 397). He was known to associate with the best of society and took a leading role in social events.

On February 6, 1883 Luke bought the Long Branch Saloon from C.M. Beeson. Not long after the purchase, W.H. Harris, now Luke's business associate, was nominated for mayor of Dodge City. Harris not only owned an interest in the Long Branch, but was a Vice-president of Dodge City Bank owning 1/4 interest and owned half of the well-known C.O.D. brand of cattle, and owned stock in the bonded whiskey in Kentucky.

Harris' opposition was a candidate that was backed by his and Luke's business competition. Harris lost the election and on April 26, 1883 new ordinances were passed to suppress brothels and vagrants. Two days after the new laws became effective, three women who were employed as "singers" in the Long Branch Saloon were arrested. The Saloons and establishments of the new mayor and his friends were not targeted. Later that night, Luke and his competitor L.C. Hartman "met in the street and paid their respective compliments to each other by exchanging shots, fortunately no one was hurt." (Miller 372). Hartman was also the City Clerk and a "special" policeman who helped make the arrests. Luke was arrested, but not for shooting at Hartman. When Luke said partiality was used in arresting the "singers" and spoke against the city government his actions caused Luke, several saloon keepers and half a dozen professional gamblers to be arrested. They were in the "city bastile" until the arrival of "their choice of trains". The women were fined heavily.

After they were "run out of town" 150 citizens were put on watch at the train station to ensure that they would not come back. Luke settled in Kansas City and was kept "informed" of the situation by friends. The situation in Dodge City continued to escalate with the papers printing stories some of which were true, some completely false. The governor of Kansas was brought in to help restore order and sent an objective reporter to investigate.

On Sunday, May 3, 1883, Bat Masterson arrived in Kansas City to help Luke Short. Bat Masterson was the ex-sheriff of Ford County and very dangerous. He had previously "crossed" the same men who were now Luke's enemies. Twenty-four hours later another group of Luke's friends arrived. This group included Wyatt Earp, Joe Lowe known as "Rowdy Joe", Shotgun Collins, and the famous Doc Holliday.

When the sheriff in Dodge City heard of the impending arrival of these gunslingers, he wired the governor for help. For some unknown reason, all of the governor's responses to the sheriff's messages were lost. Only copies of the sheriff's messages were kept. Claiming he had received orders from the governor, the sheriff armed 45 men and had them posted at the train station to await their arrival.
The governor later claimed he had sent no orders.

Instead of going to Dodge City, Luke and Bat Masterson went to Topeka to visit the governor. The sheriff of Dodge City learned of their trip to Topeka and wired the governor and stated "...I was at train with fifty armed men. No one came. Shall I hold these men in readiness for use?" (Miller 394). No one actually knows what the governor responded with, but the sheriff again wired and said he would keep the men in readiness.

After Luke and Bat Masterson's visit to the governor, on May 16, 1883, Dodge City sent its own delegation to the governor to "set...the chief executive straight in the matter of the Dodge City troubles." (Miller 395).

The parties continued to use the media to perpetuate the distorted story. On May 17th, the objective reporter informed the governor that Luke should be allowed back into Dodge to settle his business interests, but could not be protected from public or private attack.
He suggested Luke make an agreement with the city and pay the fines that had been lodged against him. After several more letters to the newspapers, Luke and his friends took action. On May 21st, Bat traveled west beyond Dodge City. Luke went to Caldwell. The newspapers carried the story. The next few days remained calm until the sheriff wired the governor asking for power to organize a militia. The reason behind this was the arrival of Wyatt Earp in Dodge City.

Again the newspapers helped to fan the flames. They reported that an arrangement for Luke to return to Dodge City had been made, but Luke could not return "peaceably, no matter how willing his old enemies may be." (Miller 405). The newspapers felt that blood shed could not be avoided. So-called "reliable" sources had written the newspaper telling the plans of Luke and his friends for "tak[ing] Dodge City by storm." (Miller 406). One newspaper reported that Luke and Wyatt Earp, and others took the afternoon train on June 3rd to Dodge City to be joined by Shotgun Collins and Bat Masterson. The Ford County Globe newspaper reported Luke's return stating "we believe he has come to stay." (Miller 407).

The sheriff again wired the governor saying he thought it was impossible to prevent a fight. They had stopped all gambling and had made an agreement for Luke to stay in Dodge City on condition he would send his "fighters" out of town. He didn't.

On June 5, 1883, the major of the milita wired the objective reporter who had returned to Topeka that everything had been settled and the parties had shook hands "across the bloody chasm. A number of men with a record are here but all is lovely." (Miller 408).
The sheriff then wired the governor confirming the agreement and that "Shorts fighters" had left town. But the trouble was not yet over. The newspaper again reported that they feared another outbreak from Luke and his friends who had, in fact, not left town. Luke had returned home and paid a $1,000 fine to keep the peace. The reporter stated that he had learned that "Short has proposed to act white this time, but the other side broke its pledges and is to blame..." (Miller 409). But the trouble was over.

A newspaper now called Bat Masterson the "Hon." W. B. Masterson and printed a letter Bat wrote to friends dated June 6th, stating that he had arrived in Dodge City and had been met at the train by a "delegation of friends" who had taken him unmolested to the Long Branch Saloon. Bat stated that he thought that the statements that had been published had been greatly exaggerated and if anyone had

"'don[ned] the war paint", they weren't wearing it when he arrived. The people of the town were gracious and were glad of Luke's return to Dodge City. He stated that Wyatt Earp, Charley Bassett, McClain and numerous others were at the Long Branch and as long as gambling was prohibited by the mayor "the liberal and thinking class will prevail upon the mayor to rescind the proclamation in a day or two." (Miller 410). Peace was now in Dodge City. On June 10th, Bat and Wyatt left Dodge and went west.

The newspaper reported in its June 12th issue that the war was over and that all those who had been run out of Dodge had returned and would not be driven out again. Gambling was legalized and ornate oriental screen doors were put on the front of the establishments to bar the view from passersby. A new dance house had opened and all the opposing factions had met there and settled their differences. They "agreed to stand by each other for the good of their trade." (Miller 411). Further newspaper reports called Luke's friends "distinguished visitors" and "statesmen" instead of as gunslingers as they had previously been called.

The local militia unit was commissioned and named the "Glick Guards" after the governor. Members were from both opposing parties, Luke being one of them. On August 22, 1883, Luke had the Police Judge of Dodge City arrested charging him "with misconduct in office and the collection of illegal fees." (Miller 412).

In November, 1883 Luke went with Bat Masterson to Fort Worth, Texas. He had sold his interest in the Long Branch Saloon. He visited Dodge City a couple of times after that. Reporting that he had been treated kindly. In 1884, Luke sued Dodge City for throwing him out in 1883. The suit was for $15,000 in damages. The case was settled out of court.
Another source claims that Luke Short owned the Wild Horse Saloon in the Fort Worth Stockyards before his death.

In August, 1893 Luke, his wife, and his brother, Young, went to Geuda Springs in Sumner County to bathe in the springs which supposedly had health-restoring minerals. Luke had dropsy. In less than a month, he died. His remains were embalmed and his wife and brother transported him to Fort Worth, Texas and buried him in Oakwood Cemetery in Fort Worth.

Died in Civil War--CSA

Notes for MARTHA JANE SEARCY:
Buried in Milledgville cemetery, Hardin Co., TN. Stone only gives the year of her death [1897], but says: "widow of Lewis Calvin Short - casualty of the Civil War." This is the only place that Lewis' name is recorded as Lewis "Calvin". It's possible that since the head stone was put up descendants, many years after Lewis died, that descendants assumed that the father had the same double name as the son, Lewis Calvin.
After her husband's death, Martha took her children to Enville, TN, where they were raised there on a farm.

Notes for CALVIN SHORT:
Calvin Short first served in the CSA Sixth MS Calvary Company A, beginning in 1863. He was in four major battles in Virginia, being severely wounded in the last one, the 2nd battle of Manassas. He was allowed to recuperate for a year and then was ordered back into the Mississippi unit, but he had left by that time and gone to Tennessee, where he joined Company E., Wilson's Tennessee Cavalry Regiment, a unit raised from Hardin Co., TN, where Calvin's wife's family lived.

Calvin died on 14 October 1922 at Shawnee Hospital, Shawnee, Pottawatomie Co., OK; the cause of death was shock following an operation for enlarged prostate. He was buried in Wapanucka, Johnston Co., OK, where his daughter, Viola Short Howell lived.

CENSUS HISTORY
In 1850 Calvin is listed in his father, Young Short's household in Tishomingo Co., MS as age 8, born in MS and attending school.

In 1860 Calvin is listed in the Tishomingo household of his future father-in-law, Seymore Long, working evidently as a laborer on the farm. Calvin is shown as age 17, born in MS. Calvin's future wife, Rebecca E. Long, is shown as age 15, born in TN.

In 1870 the Alcorn Co., MS census, Town Range 5, shows the following:

Short, Calvin	age 27	male	farmer	$3200/$300	born MS
Short, Rebecca	26	female	keeps house		TN
Short, Lou	6	male			MS
Short, George	4	male			MS

Three other children were born in TX after the above census was taken. They were Rosaline, b. c. 1880, Rae, b. c 1882 and James Custer b. March 31, 1883. It is believed that Rebecca Elizabeth Long Short died either in childbirth or shortly after the birth of this last child.

According to the recollections of Calvin's daughter, Viola Short Howell, after Rebecca's death, Calvin loaded his family into a covered wagon and followed the crops, working as an itinerant farm laborer. The family was in Pauls Valley, IT in 1890 when Viola met and married her husband, Wilson Y. Howell.

vii. MAUDE SHORT, b. Abt. 1876, Tennessee.

Notes for MAUDE SHORT:
Maude was living in 1893 in Roff, Indian Territory, where her sister, Viola Short Howell was living. Also living in Roff was Pinkney Berry, the half brother of Viola's husband, Wilson Y. Howell. Pinkney fell in love with Maude, and according to a letter written by Wilson to another half brother, James Story, Pinkney and Maude were engaged for awhile. But evidently Maude called off the engagement and Pickney shot and killed himself, leaving a suicide note concerning Maude.
Letter from Wilson Y. Howell to his brother, James Story:
Roff, Indian Territory, April 22, 1893
Mr. James Story
My Dear Brother,
I received a letter from you to Pinkney today as I was going to write to you. So I will try to break the sad news to you. Pinkney shot himself on the morning of the 17th of April. He was about 80 yards from my house. I reached him in aboout 10 minutes after the shot was fired. He fired the first shot in the ground and the other through his head which killed him at once. he had two letters in his pocket stating his troubles. It was all about a girl named Maud Short--he had been going to see her for about 6 months. They had been engaged some time. I will try to write more some other time. Poor mother's grief is most. Write soon. I will close. We have been sick, but better now. Hope this will find you all well. Write soon. From your brother, Wilson Howell.
[notice that Wilson does not identify Maude Short as his sister-in-law, the sister of his wife, Viola].

Notes for SARAH PRICILLA SHORT:
Virgil Robinson wrote:
I have a copy of Sara Percilla's death cirt.
It list her as Sarah P. Moore, died Dec. 3, 1928 in Booneville, MS. Age, 76 years, 6 mo. It list her father as Young Short and mother as Rhodie Barbara.
Her husband at the time of her death was Charles A. Moore. With her first husband, John Pryor Brackeen, there were 6 children born. One son, Josiah Young Brackeen is the seed of many Brackeen's that still live in this area.

[substracting her age from her death certificate, would have made Sarah birth about May/June 1852, making her the youngest and 13th child of Young and Rhoda Short.--M.Owen]

from Wanda Yelverton yelv@ghg.net
Now to the different spellings of Brackeen--it is different on each census. My grandmother Fannie Patrick Smith Brackeen died when my dad was four years old. Sarah Priscilla raised my dad until he went into high school. She spelled her name Brackeen as have all the others in the family except Riley Boss who spelled his name Bracken. John Pryor's dad, who is the earliest Brackeen that we have was born in 1820 and on the 1850 census he is listed with his family as J.Brickeen. He is also on a deed in Tishomingo County as Josiah R. Brickeen. I think that none were educated enough to know how to spell their names. Who knows?
My dad, Carlie Wilburn Brackeen and my mother, Bessie, said that Sarah Priscilla was a wonderful person and they loved her dearly. She smoked a clay pipe! My Uncle Scott Brackeen, was very close to her and her second family and felt that she was an angel from heaven.

44. MARY MARGARET VIOLA ANN[5] SHORT (CALVIN[4], YOUNG[3], BURRELL[2], LANDMAN[1]) was born February 15, 1872 in Nashville, TN, and died October 08, 1958 in Arcadia, CA. She married WILSON Y. HOWELL November 26, 1890 in Pauls Valley, I.T., son of WILSON HOWELL and LAVINA DAVIS. He was born January 01, 1861 in Howell Co., MO, and died November 15, 1950 in Arcadia, CA.

Notes for MARY MARGARET VIOLA ANN SHORT:
Mary Margaret Viola Ann Short Long was called Viola, sometimes "Vallie" by her husband. Viola's mother, Rebecca, died when Viola was only eleven years old. Since Viola was the oldest girl the managing of the household and the mothering of her younger siblings, fell to her. After the death of his wife, Calvin, Viola's father, loaded his children into a covered wagon and followed the crops, the whole family working as migrant farm workers. It was while they were picking cotton in Pauls Valley, Indian Territory in 1890 that Viola met and soon married, Wilson Y. Howell Jr. In later years when Viola's siblings would visit her, they exhibited a deep affection for her, for the devotion she showed to them as children. Viola is remembered by her descendants as being a hard-working, extremely thrify woman, always scrimping and saving for the furture. She used to tuck money away in odd places, until it might be needed. Viola and her husband, Wilson Y. Howell Jr. were married just a week and a half short of 60 years. Wilson died on 15 November 1950. Viola died on 8 October 1958. Both are buried in Monrovia, CA.

Notes for WILSON Y. HOWELL:
Wilson Y. Howell Jr. was born in West Plains, Howell Co., MO on January 11, 1861, just a few weeks before the beginning of the Civil War. His father died about the same, leaving his widowed mother to manage the raising of 8 children during those difficult times, alone. After the war she married again to William Berry, a violent man, with whom Wilson did not get along. At an early age young Wilson left home to make his own way. Eventually he arrived in Pauls Valley, Indian Territory, where he met and married Mary Margaret Viola Ann Short in 1890. The couple settled first in Roff, Indian Territory, [later Pontotoc Co., OK] then in Wapanucka [later Johnston Co.], OK and then in Wilson, Atoka County, OK. In Wilson, the family lived on a large farm where Wilson also owned and operated a little country store on the corner of the property, at Wilson Corners, a main cross road. Many of Wilson & Viola's children eventually settled in California. In their elderly years, the parents decided to come to California also. They bought some property in Arcadia, California and built a house where they lived until they both died. Wilson was nearly ninety when he died on 15 November 1950; Viola lived for another eight years.

Descendants of John Barker

Generation No. 1

1. JOHN[1] BARKER was born 1615, and died 1689 in Martin's Brandon, Charles City Co., VA. He married (1) LETITIA?. He married (2) ANN 1673.

Notes for JOHN BARKER:

According to Hotten, John Barker, "Master of the good ship Abraham set sail from London with 51 passengers aboard", 20 November 1635. Barker descendants have claimed that is their Immigrant ancestor, John Barker, who patented land in James City Co. in 1649:

Other importation records for a John Barker [from "Early VA Immigrants" are:
John Barker 1639, imported by William Dobi, James City. [A George Barker imported, James City, 1639 by Edward Oliver]
John Barker 1648, imported by Thos. Ludwell Gent., James City
John Barker 1656, imported by Tho. Busby, Surry Co.

Hayden, in "Virginia Genealogies" reported that John Barker was from Yorkshire, England.

Patent Book 2, VA Land Grants
JOHN BARKER, 300 acs. James City Co., Nov. 1649, p. 193. Lyeing at the verry head of the maine branch of Lower Chipoaks Cr., bounded upon land of Master Dunstan & N.W. upon land of William Cartar. Trans. of 6 pers: Eliza Blacker, John Carver, Elizabeth Collins, John Musgrove.

In 1652 Surry Co. was formed from James City Co., VA. On 9 January 1653, John Barker bought a plantation from Theoderick Bland for 10,000 lbs of tobacco. on Chippokee Creek. In 1667 he patented more land on Chipoakes Cr.:

Patent Book 6
Mr. JOHN BARKER, 916 acs. Surry Co. 7 Mary 1667, p. 119. 600 acs. On the N. side of James Riv. About 7 or 8 mi. from the head of Up. Chipoakes Cr., beg. On the E. side of the maine br. Of Black Water called the Beavor Sw., over a br. of same to the Division Sw., & 316 acs. Adj. same, beg. On the E. side of Bevor Dam Sw. &c. 600 acs. Granted sd. Barker 20 Oct. 1661 & 316 acs. For trans. of 6 pers: Jno. Barker, Tomson Wood, Jno Gilberts, 3 Negroes: Frank, Cube & Bab.
[Later this land descended to Josiah Barker, who said it had been patented by his grandfather, John Barker].

Marriage Notes for JOHN BARKER and ANN:
John Barker married secondly, about 1673, Ann, widow of George Marshall, whose will was probated on 9 March 1672 in Charles City Co. On 2 September 1673 John Barker Sen. and wife Ann, deeded 75 acres on Chippokee Creek to John Barker the younger, land that had come to Ann, as the widow of Marshall. On 3 March 1674, John Barker Jun. re-conveyed the 75 acres to John Barker Sr., referring in the deed to Mrs. Ann Barker, as "mother in law to me [step-mother].

The early Charles City wills were destroyed, but a court order there in 5 January 1690, shows that John Sr. must have left a will, because John Good, who had married Ann Marshall Barker, was ordered to pay 8000 lbs of tobacco to Joel Barker, as a legacy left to him by his deceased father. Joel and his brother Jethro were then to sign a "sufficient discharge" to Good.

Children of JOHN BARKER and LETITIA? are:

2. i. JOHN[2] BARKER, b. Abt. 1636; d. 1714.

Generation No. 2

2. JOHN[2] BARKER (JOHN[1]) was born Abt. 1636, and died 1714. He married GRACE BUSBY, daughter of THOMAS BUSBY and UNKNOWN GREY. She died 1725.

Notes for JOHN BARKER:
The first record found for John Barker Jr., is the VA land patent below:
It's not clear how old a person had to be to patent land, but if at least age 21, that would mean that John Barker Jr. was born about 1636, as shown by the patent record below:

Patent Book 4
JOHN BARKER Jr., 600 acs. Surry Co., 15 Oct. 1657, p. 122, [182] On S. side of James Riv. About 7 or 8 mi. from the head of upper Chipoakes Cr. Trans. of 12 pers: Edmond Jeneck, Tho. Wakefeild, Jno. There is record of two other land grants, which apparently belong to John Barker Jr.:

4. JOEL[2] BARKER (JOHN[1]) was born Abt. 1659, and died Bef. 1750. He married KATHARINE BLUNT?, daughter of THOMAS BLUNT and UNKNOWN.

Notes for JOEL BARKER:
Joel Barker was apparently the youngest of three sons, of John Barker Sr. and his first wife, whose name may have been Letitia. His brother John Jr.'s name first appears in the Surry records in 1673. Brother Jethro's name first appears in 1685. Joel's name does not appear in the Surry Co. records until the 1687 militia list, so it would appear he may have been quite a bit younger than his brothers.

The LDS Ancestral File says Joel's wife was named Ann, but no source is given for this information. Certainly in 1707 his wife was named, Katherine, see reference below.

The early Charles City wills were destroyed, but a court order there in 5 January 1690, shows that John Sr. must have left a will, because John Good, who had married Ann Marshall Barker, was ordered to pay 8000 lbs of tobacco to Joel Barker, as a legacy left to him by his deceased father. Joel and his brother Jethro were then to sign a "sufficient discharge" to Good.

January Court, 1698/9, p. [212] - 193
Mary Harris, widow of John Harris petitioned the Court that her daughter, Mary Harris be granted Administration of John Harris' estate, since she, the widow, was a cripple and not able to come to court.
Joel Barker, along with his brother Jethro Barker, was a security for Mary Harris' administration of the estate of her father John Harris' estate.

No! Not there

Joel is listed as a tithable on the existing Surry tax in 1688, 1694, 1698, & 1702. His name appears on the Surry Co. Quit Rents in 1704.

1707, May Joel acknowledged deed of sale to William Killingsworth, wife Katharine relinquished dower.
1708, 9/21 Joel was left land with Howell Edmunds in will of Thomas Blunt.
1710, Aug The bridge over the black water at Joel Barker's mentioned in court record.
1711, March Joel was an appraiser with Howell Edmunds & Hinshea Guillum of the estate of Thos. Figures.
1711, 4/6 Joel was left land in will of Benjamin Harrison. What was the relationship of Benjamin Harrison to Joel? All of the other legatees in Benjamin's will are blood relatives, either children or grandchildrn, with the possible exception of William Stringer. Is it possible that Joel was a grandson of Benjamin Harrison? Or was Joel at that time married to a daughter of Benjamin Harrison?
1711, July Joel was granted judgment against Wilm. Cook, Admr. of John Cook.
1712, 12/12 Joel was paid 300 for one wolf's head caught in a pitt.
1718, Jul 16 Joel was an appraiser with Charles Briggs & Wm. Edmunds of the estate of Nicholas Jarrard 1723, 11/2 Joel & Samuell Magot & John Andrews, appraised the estate of Thomas Farmer.
1729, 11/20 Joel witnessed codicil to Charles Briggs will.

After the date above, its hard to tell for sure which Joel Barker is referenced in the records, since there was also a Joel Barker Jr., but likely the following refer the elder Joel:

1740, 10/15 A buyer at the Estate Sale of John Owin
1741, 8/21 Joel Barker's land borders John Anderson.
1747, 10/17 Joell Barker's land bounded on that of Lemual & Hannah Lanier.
1748, 3/18 Sold land on Wildcatt Branch to Simon Stacy.
1748, 3/21 Sold two parcels to Thomas Tomlinson, granted to him in 1716 & 1732.
1749, Apr. Joel Barker, a poor Infirm, exempted from payment of levies.

At a Court held for Surry County the 21st day of March 1748

This Indenture & the memorandum of Livery & Seizin thereon Endorsed were acknowledged by Joel Barker and by the Court ordered to be recorded.

Notes for KATHARINE BLUNT?:
Thomas Blunt, leaves Joel Barker land in his will, written 21 Sept. 1708 & probated 7 March 1709. There is no explanation for this legacy, but I think it's possible that Joel Barker had married a daughter of Thomas Blunt. If so, her name was likely Katharine, as in May of 1707, Joel acknowledged a deed of sale to William Killingsworth, and Joel's wife Katharine relinquished dower.

Children of JOEL BARKER and KATHARINE BLUNT? are:

i. JOHN[3] BARKER, b. Abt. 1700; d. 1740. (unmarried)

ii. WILLIAM BARKER, b. Abt. 1703; m. MARY.

Notes for WILLIAM BARKER:
The first reference to William Barker is a land grant.
Patent Book 14
WILLIAM BARKER, 95 acs. [N.L.] Surry Co; on S. side the main Black Water Sw; on N. side of Jeremy's Br., in line of Col. Henry Harrison & cor. of Nicholas Jones; 28 Sept. 1732, p. 500 15 Shill.

William Barker was likely the second son of Joel Barker Sr. William's elder brother John Barker left a will which was proved in 1740, leaving legacies to his sister Mary Barker & brother Joshuay Barker, but John mentions that he has a total of three brothers. It would appear that the unmentioned brothers were William & Joel Jr. Grace Barker, daughter of John Barker Jr., in her will proved in 1750, leaves five shillings each to her cousins, William, Joshua & Joel Barker. Grace also left her 300 acre plantation to her cousin [nephew] Richard Barker, providing he give 100 acre of this land to his brother, John. Evidently Grace Barker, [who was unmarried, and who had received this land from her father, John Barker Jr., who had received the land from his father John Barker Sr.] was not free by law to pass on this land to anyone except William Barker, who was termed her "heir at law". [see probate notice below, following the recording of her will]. John Barker Sr. would have been the grandfather of both Grace & of William Barker. When John Barker Sr. first devised the land to his son John Jr., with revision to Grace, William Barker must have been designated as a back-up legatee, if Grace died without heirs of her body.

At a Court held for Surry County the 15th day of May 1750

The within written last Will & Testament of Grace Barker decd. was presented in Court by Richard Barker Executor therein named who made oath thereto, according to Law & the same was proved by the oaths of Robert Lanier & Josiah Barker, two of the Witnesses thereto and by the Court ordered to be Recorded & on the motion of the said Executor certificate is granted him for obtaining a probate in due form and it is ordered that William Barker, heir at Law to the said Grace be summoned to appear at the next court to contest the aforesaid will if he shall therein think fit.BARKER, WILLIAM, SURRY CO., VA

It's not clear if William Barker actually contested Grace Barker's will, thereby gaining possession of the 300 acres which were formerly the property of his grandfather John Barker Sr., or if William owned additional property which had belonged to his grandfather. But in the deed below he gave one hundred acres to his brother Joshua, which were originally part of a 916 acre land grant to John Barker Sr: .

Lewis Barker gave supplies for the cause of the Revolution. On July 1, 1781. Voucher No. 675 places the value of his contribution at £24. His claim was approved for repayment.

Lewis Barker is on the 1790 census in Wake Co., NC on p. 103. Also on that page is his brother, Edmund Barker. Other Barkers in Wake Co. that year were Abner Barker [p. 104], Drewry Barker, Lewis Barker, Mark Barker, Shaderick Barker, Wm. Barker [p. 105], and Daniel Barker [p. 106.]
The second Lewis Barker is a son of William Barker. There must have been some relationship of these other Barkers to Joel and his sons, Lewis and Edmunds, since William named a son, Lewis.

Ordered that Mark BARKERS mark be recorded, to wit: a swallow fork in the right ear, and a slit in the left ear and a half moon under it.

NOTE: Who was Shadrack BARKER in the record immediately above? Shadrack BARKER evidently died late in 1798, as his estate sale was held on 10 Jan. 1799 [see record below]. His Administrators were Andrew PEDDY and his wife, Niomey BARKER. His wife received her Widow's Dower in December of 1805. She was called "Amy" Barker, which is short of "Naomi". At that same time Shadrack's land was divided, apparently among his children: Thomas BARKER, Solomon SEGRAVES, in right of his wife Sally, Edmund BARKER [Jr.], Polly PARKER, Mylah BARKER, Edith BARKER, and Anthony PILKINGTON, in right of his wife Rebecca. Mark BARKER, whose mark was also recorded above, was the son of Precilla LETTMON of Wake Co., who in 1788 and him a plantation of 125 acres. The same deed mentions that another son of Precilla LETTMON was William BARKER. William BARKER died before August 1803, when his daughter Polly BARKER and Sally BARKER chose their brother Lewis BARKER [Jr.] for their guardian. Lewis BARKER was also appointed guardian to Bartlett [Bartly] and Killingsworth BARKER, younger sons of William.

A document recorded on 27 Aug. 1797 in the book of Wills, Inventories & Settlements of Estates, shows that Mike HONEYCUTT was bound to Lewis BARKER until the age of 21 to learn the occupation of planter. J. Rice was a witness .

Wake Co. Book E, p. 48 shows the William WILLIAMS estate sale on 6 Feb. 1798. Thomas PEDDY, William BARKER, Needham SHORT, Lewis BARKER, were among the buyers. [It is not known which Lewis Barker is referred to here, but it was likely Lewis Barker Sr..]

Wake Co. Book F., p. 68 shows the Britain SANDERS Inventory on 2 May 1800. Debts due co-partnership of Britain & Ellick SANDERS: Burwell SHORT & Lewis BARKER Sr. [among those on a very long list.]
Also on p. 84, was the Shadrack BARKER Estate sale, which was recorded on 6 May 1800, but held on 10 Jan. 1799. Buyers: Naomie BARKER, Edith BARKER, Edmund BARKER, Andrew PEDDY, Thomas BARKER, Lewis BARKER, Anthony PILKINTON, Mason HARVILLE, William BARKER, Drury BARKER, Jordan HICKS, Nathaniel DENNIS, Henry BROWN, William LASHLY, Mark BARKER, Richard FOSTER. Admr. A. PEDDY, Niomey BARKER.

In 1800, there is only one Lewis Barker listed on the census in Wake Co. Perhaps Lewis Barker Jr. was still in his father William's household? The listing for Lewis Barker on page 721 shows: 4 males under 10, 1 male 45+; 2 females under 10, 1 female 10--16, 1 female26--45. The author of "Cowell's Chapel in Benton Co., TN" apparently thought that this enumeration showed too many people in "our" Lewis Barker household, and commented that perhaps the entries for the two Lewis Barkers had been combined. Other Barkers on p. 721 were Mark, Edmond, WIlliam, William Jr. Drury & Nioma. On p. 720 the Barkers were: Edmond, Hosea, Mary.

#214. [no date] Lewis BARKER entered 200 acres of vacant or surplus land in Wake County on the waters of little Beaver Creek, within his own lines, joining his own lines and Sampson Holland.
#215 21st February 1804. Lewis BARKER entered 640 acres of vacant or surplus land in Wake Co., on the waters of Great and Little White Oak Creeks, joining the lines of Etheldred JONES or Britain UTLEY.
[It's possible that these two land entries belong to Lewis Barker Jr., since Lewis Barker Sr. left Wake Co. shortly after this land warrant was issued.]

According to the book, "Cowell's Chapel in Benton Co., TN and its Pioneer Families" by Jonathan K.T. Smith, Lewis & his brother Edmunds, were sons of Joel Barker of Wake Co., NC. Lewis left Wake Co. early in 1805, after Lewis sold his land in Wake to Isaac Hunter for 700 silver dollars. The land consisted of the 200 acres Lewis had acquired by land grant in 1792 and and adjoining 375 acres. The family moved to Tennesse, at first in a more eastern section, but by 1810, they were residents of Humphrey Co., TN, where Deed Book A, p. 44, records the sale of a slave, Lucy, by Lewis Barker in January of that year.. They lived there on a farm off Big Richland Creek. In 1824 he gained title to 50 acres in the Cypress tract in Surveyor District 12. He paid taxes on this land from 1824 through 1842. Thereafter, the land was registered in his son, Zachariah's name.

Lewis Barker is on the 1820 Federal Census for Humphreys, TN, p. 3. He is age 45+. Also in the household are 2 males age 18--26, 1 female, under 10, 2 females, age 10--16, and 1 female age 45+. Living right next door to him his Needham SHORT, from Wake Co., NC, and uncle of Young Short who in a few years will marry Roda Barker, who appears to be the daughter of Lewis. Zachary Barker and his wife, Celia, named a son, Needham. It may be that Celia was a daughter of Needham Short. Other Barkers in Humphreys in 1820 are:
Allen, p. 12; Briggs, p. 3; Jane, p. 8.

Lewis Barker is on the 1830 Federal Census for Humphreys, TN. He is age 80+. His wife is listed as age 60--70. There are no children living with them. Younger [Young] Short is also in Humphreys Co. that year, with his wife and family Their two sons and daughter are all under the age of 10.

This Bill of Sale was proven in open Court on the 14th day of September 1837, and registered on the 12th day of December 1837.

It is not known exactly when Lewis Barker died, but he paid taxes on his 50 acres of land in Surveyor District 12 until 1842. He must have died shortly thereafter, probably about age 92.

According to the book "Cowell's Chapel", Lewis is buried in the family graveyard, located about 350 years northwest of the old residence in Benton Co., TN. Other family members buried there are Lewis' wife, Macy, Zachariah & Celia Barker, Allen Barker & his wife, Briggs Barker and his second wife, Cordelia Barker Rogers and two of her children, Averille and Salina Barker Hardin, Charles Key and his wife. Many of the family's slaves and former slaves, are also buried here.

CENSUS HISTORY

In 1850 Calvin is listed in his father, Young Short's household in Tishomingo Co., MS as age 8, born in MS and attending school.
In 1860 Calvin is listed in the Tishomingo household of his future father-in-law, Seymore Long, working evidently as a laborer on the farm. Calvin is shown as age 17, born in MS. Calvin's future wife, Rebecca E. Long, is shown as age 15, born in TN.

According to the recollections of Calvin's daughter, Viola Short Howell, after Rebecca's death, Calvin loaded his family into a covered wagon and followed the crops, working as an itinerant farm laborer. The family was in Pauls Valley, IT in 1890 when Viola met and married her husband, Wilson Y. Howell.

xiii. SARAH PRISCILLA SHORT, b. June 15, 1852.

Notes for SARAH PRISCILLA SHORT:
Virgil Robinson wrote:
I have a copy of Sara Percilla's death cirt.
It list her as Sarah P. Moore, died Dec. 3, 1928 in Booneville, MS. Age, 76 years, 6 mo. It list her father as Young Short and mother as Rhodie Barbara.
Her husband at the time of her death was Charles A. Moore. With her first husband, John Pryor Brackeen, there were 6 children born. One son, Josiah Young Brackeen is the seed of many Brackeen's that still live in this area.

[substracting her age from her death certificate, would have made Sarah birth about May/June 1852, making her the youngest and 13th child of Young and Rhoda Short.--M.Owen]

from Wanda Yelverton yelv@ghg.net
Now to the different spellings of Brackeen--it is different on each census. My grandmother Fannie Patrick Smith Brackeen died when my dad was four years old. Sarah Priscilla raised my dad until he went into high school. She spelled her name Brackeen as have all the others in the family except Riley Boss who spelled his nameBracken. John Pryor's dad, who is the earliest Brackeen that we have was born in 1820 and on the 1850 census he is listed with his family as J.Brickeen. He is also on a deed in Tishomingo County as Josiah R. Brickeen. I think that none were educated enough to know how to spell their names. Who knows?
My dad, Carlie Wilburn Brackeen and my mother, Bessie, said that Sarah Priscilla was a wonderful person and they loved her dearly. She smoked a clay pipe! My Uncle Scott Brackeen, was very close to her and her second family and felt that she was an angel from heaven.
